GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Delhi, the 27th December 1921.

RESOLUTION.

His Majesty's Secretary of State for India has been pleased to decide that additional pensions shall be granted to military officers who have held certain high civil posts and have fulfilled the conditions stated in the following paragraphs.

2. The additional pensions will be of two classes; a higher pension of £200 a year and a lower pension of £100 a year. Their grant will be subject to the condition that the total pension of an officer receiving the higher class additional pension shall not exceed £1,000 a year and that of an officer receiving the lower class shall not exceed £900 a year.

3. (a) The pensions will be earned by approved service of the following kinds in a qualifying post:—

(i) Three years' substantive service; or

(ii) Three years' continuous officiating service; or

(iii) Three years' continuous officiating and substantive service.

(b) All privilege leave, and all leave which, under the terms of the resolution of the Government of India in the Finance Department, No. 1260-C. S. R., dated the 21st December 1921, counts as privilege leave, will, if taken during such service, count as service.

4. The posts qualifying for the higher pension will be all civil posts which now carry a pay of not less than Rs. 4,000 a month. The posts qualifying for the lower pension will be all civil posts which now carry a pay of not less than Rs. 3,000 a month.

5. The period of three years' service prescribed in paragraph 3 above is an absolute minimum, and no portion of either class of additional pension will be admissible to an officer who has held a qualifying post for a shorter period. A period of three years, spent partly in a post or posts qualifying for the higher, and partly in a post or posts qualifying for the lower class additional pension, will, however, entitle an officer to a lower class pension.

6. An officer serving in a post on a progressive or time-scale pay rising to a maximum of Rs. 3,000 or of Rs. 4,000 will be entitled to count as qualifying for a lower or higher pension, as the case may be, that portion only of his service during which he has drawn the maximum pay of the post.

7. These rules will apply with effect from the 1st April 1919 to all officers who retired from civil employ after the 4th August 1914. They will apply to an officer who retired from civil employ before that date if he was recalled during the great war for further civil employment in a qualifying post in India and completed in all three years' service in such a post.

ORDERED that the Resolution be communicated to the several Departments of the Government of India (including the Financial Advisers), all Provincial Governments and Minor Local Governments, the Auditor General, the Heads of Departments subordinate to the Finance Department, all Accountants General, the Comptroller, Assam, the Chief Auditors of State Railways and Government Examiners of Railway Accounts, the Examiner of Accounts, Military Works Services, the Examiner, Government Press Accounts, the Controller of War Accounts, the Examiner of Customs Accounts, the Deputy Accountant General, Central Revenues, Delhi, the Audit Officer, Bombay Development Scheme, the Audit Officer, Delhi (New Capital), and the Auditor of Government of India Sanctions.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Rainfall summary for the seven days ending at 8 hours on Wednesday, the 4th January 1922, based on the Indian Daily Weather Reports of the period.

1. The western disturbance which crossed the northwest frontier about the 25th traversed the whole length of northern India and caused widespread rain and snow in the North-West Frontier Province, Kashmir, the Punjab excluding the southwest, and the west of the United Provinces, and fairly general rain in the Central Provinces, Chota Nagpur and Orissa, with local falls in southwest Bengal. The depression which formed to the east of Ceylon on the 27th passed over the island and moved in a northwesterly direction towards the centre of the Arabian Sea; although it did not cross any part of the Peninsula, it was instrumental in introducing a burst of monsoon rain there with some exceptionally heavy falls. The week's rainfall was accordingly heavy for the time of year in Hyderabad and southeast Madras.

2. Burma.—The week was rainless except for a light fall at Tavoy.

Northeast India, including Orissa.—Nearly general rain fell in Chota Nagpur on the 1st and in Orissa on the 3rd; there were a few falls on one other day in both these subdivisions. In Assam, Bengal and Bihar rainfall was limited to a few scattered falls.

The United Provinces, Central India and the Central Provinces.—In Central India and the east of the United Provinces weather was dry except for a light fall at Sutna and Bahraich. In the west of the United Provinces there was nearly general rain in the hills between the 30th and 1st, and in the plains on the 31st, with local or scattered falls on one other and two other days respectively. In the Central Provinces while local rain fell in the west on the 31st and 1st, rainfall was nearly general in the east on the 1st.

Northwest India.—Nearly general rain and snow fell in the North-West Frontier Province and Kashmir on the 29th, and in the Punjab hills on the 29th and 31st; local or scattered falls occurred on one other day in the North-West Frontier Province and the Punjab hills, and on two other days in Kashmir. In the Punjab plains no rain occurred in the southwestern districts, while in the northern and eastern districts nearly all stations recorded more or less rain between the 29th and 31st. In Baluchistan local rain fell in the northern districts on the 28th and 29th.

The Peninsula.—In southeast Madras rainfall was nearly general on the 28th and 29th, and local between the 30th and 1st. There was local rain in Malabar on the 29th and 1st, in north Hyderabad on the 31st and 3rd, in south Hyderabad between the 1st and 3rd, and in Mysore and the Madras Deccan on the 31st and 2nd. DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 31st December 1921.

Burma.—No rain fell during the week except in Tavoy. Standing crops are in good condition. Reaping of winter rice is in progress. Cattle are generally healthy.

Assam.—The weather is seasonable and favourable. Harvesting of matikalai and winter rice has commenced. Plucking of cotton and sowing of spring rice continue. Plucking of tea is over. The outturn and prospects of crops are generally fair except transplanted winter rice which is good. The outturn of cotton is below normal. Cattle disease is reported from one district. The price of common rice is practically stationary.

Bengal.—Practically no rain fell during the week. Harvesting of winter paddy and sowing of spring crops are nearly finished. The condition and prospects of spring crops are fair. Light showers are urgently needed for their growth. The average price of rice has fallen by about 1·8 per cent.

Bihar and Orissa.—No rain fell in the Province except light showers in Gaya, Champaran, Monghyr, Angul, Sambalpur, Ranchi, Palamau, Manbhum and Singhbum. Harvesting of winter paddy and pressing of sugarcane still continue. Sowing of spring crops has been finished. Standing spring crops are generally doing well but rain is wanted in Gaya and Purnea. The price of common rice has risen in six districts, fallen in two and remained stationary in the remainder. The average price of local common rice at headquarters excluding Angul was 7·61 seers a rupee against 7 78 seers in the preceding week and that of maize was 10·73 seers against 10·63 seers in the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from eight districts. The condition of standing crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa and Chota Nagpur is good.

United Provinces.—Light rain fell in parts of certain districts. Land has already been prepared for extra crops and sugarcane in places. Irrigation of spring crops and poppy and pressing of sugarcane continue. Standing crops are well. Prospects are favourable. Agricultural stock is in a satisfactory condition though cattle disease still exists in places. Fodder, water and market supplies are sufficient. Prices are still high.

Punjab.—Light rain fell in parts of nearly all the reporting districts and was beneficial to standing crops. More rain is badly wanted. Picking of cotton and pressing of sugarcane are in progress. The yield is below normal to normal. The condition of wheat and other standing spring crops is generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated areas. Reaping of toria continues. The expected yield is normal. Cattle are healthy. Green fodder and water for drinking and for irrigation purposes are sufficient. Stocks of foodgrains are generally insufficient. Prices of wheat :—Rawalpindi 3¼, Ferozepur 3¾, Lyallpur 3⅞, Lahore and Ambala 4 seers per rupee.

North-West Frontier Province.—Good and beneficial rain fell throughout the Province. Sowings of spring crops are proceeding satisfactorily and pressing of sugarcane is in progress. The outturn is average. The condition of standing crops is generally average. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices of foodgrains continue to be dangerously high. Wheat is selling in Peshawar at 4 seers and in Dera Ismail Khan at $3\frac{7}{16}$ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Rain is sufficient. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are stationary.

Kashmir.—It is snowing slightly in the valley. No cattle disease is reported. Prices are stationary.

Baluchistan.—(Report for the week ending the 24th December 1921.)—Heavy rain fell during the week throughout the Province and further encouraged rabi prospects but damaged juar on threshing floors in Sibi. Economic conditions and prices of wheat remain unaltered. 63 persons were employed on relief works in Quetta-Pishin. Relief works were stopped elsewhere on account of rains. 1,671 persons were fed in the Loralai district. Atta is still being issued from the cheap atta shop in Chaman. Figures of recipients of atta for the week are not available. The condition of livestock is good. Fodder is sufficient except in Chaman and Pishin.

Rajputana.—No rain fell during the week. The weather is clear and cold. Watering of spring crops continues. Cotton picking is progressing. Standing crops are in good condition. Cattle disease is prevalent in Pattena in the Bharatpur State, parts of Kotah and Sarwar district in the Kishenghar State. Fodder is sufficient. Water is scanty in Jhalawar. Prices are rising in Kotah.

Central India.—Harvesting of autumn crops continues in Indore, Bundelkhand, Malwa, the Southern States and in parts of Baghelkhand and has been completed elsewhere. Sowing of spring crops is in progress in Bundelkhand. The crops are being irrigated in the Southern States. Cotton picking is in progress in Indore and Malwa. The condition of standing crops is fair to good except in Bhopal where spring crops are suffering for want of rain. The probable outturn is fair to good except in the Rampura-Bhanpura district and in Bhopal. Crops are reported to have been damaged in the Pahra Jagir in Baghelkhand. The condition of agricultural stock is fair to good except for cattle disease in Kurvai and Orcha and in parts of Barwani and Rewa. The condition of opium is fair in Indore but its cultivation is only four annas in the rupee. Poppy plants are in good condition in Malwa and Rajgarh. Weeding and watering continue in Narsingarh. Prices are high.

Gwalior.—(Report for the week ending the 24th December 1921.)—The condition of standing crops is satisfactory. Harvesting of autumn crops is in progress. Sowing of spring crops has been generally completed. Pressing of sugarcane has commenced. The probable outturn of autumn crops is ten to fourteen annas. Cattle disease still prevails. Prices of foodgrains continue to be high. Prices of juar and bajra have dropped slightly. Weeding and watering of opium have commenced. Picking of cotton is in progress.

Central Provinces.—The weather has been cool with occasional clouds in the latter part of the week. Seoni and Mandla received rain amounting to 1 and 2 inches respectively. Seven other districts have also had light showers nowhere exceeding 78 cents. This will improve the condition of the spring crops but more rain is required at once everywhere. Picking of cotton and threshing and winnowing of autumn crops continue. Prospects of spring crops are, so far, generally good. The supply of fodder and water is adequate and cattle are healthy. Rice in Raipur sells cheaper by 1 seer per rupee. Other variations exhibit a slight downward tendency.

Feudatory States:—A good shower of rain is required for the spring crops.

Bombay.—Standing crops are thriving except in parts of the Deccan where they are withering for the want of sufficient moisture. Harvesting of autumn crops is nearing completion. Threshing continues. Cotton picking is progressing in Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, West Khandesh, Ahmednagar and Baroda. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Water for drinking and irrigation is adequate. Cattle are good. Prices are almost stationary.

Hyderabad.—No rain fell during the week. The autumn harvest is over except cotton which is being picked. Early rice is being harvested. Late rice sowings continue. The condition of wheat, juar, gram, tobacco, sugarcane, linseed and castor is generally fair except in parts of Aurangabad where the crops are withering for want of moisture. Standing crops are being weeded and irrigated. Water and fodder are generally available. The condition of cattle is satisfactory. Stocks of foodgrains are sufficient. Employment is available and prospects are generally fair. Prices of foodgrains show a downward tendency. Juar is selling at 3½ seers per rupee in the Gulbarga and Mahbubnagar districts.

Mysore.—The week was rainless. Prices of food grains are steady. Markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. The outturn of the harvested ragi, paddy and sugarcane is fair. Prospects of the season are fair. Cattle are generally healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The weather is cloudy. Picking of coffee and reaping of rice continue. Water and fodder for cattle are available. The public health is good. Prices of foodgrains are high.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was heavy in the south except Madura, moderate in the Carnatic except Nellore, Trichinopoly, Madura, Travancore and the hills, fair in North Arcot and light or nil elsewhere. Standing crops are fair and have benefited by recent rains but are withering in parts of South Arcot and the central districts. The outturn of the harvested paddy and dry crops is generally fair to normal. Sowings of paddy and dry crops are proceeding except in the extreme south-west coast. The condition of cattle is good. Water is sufficient generally except in parts of Chingleput, South Arcot, the central districts, the south and west coast. Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. Prospects are generally fair but the labour condition is unsatisfactory in parts of Malabar affected by the mopla outbreak and more rain is required in parts of the Carnatic and the central districts. Three test works are in progress in Kurnool with an attendance of 777 persons. Gratuitous relief was given to 882 persons.

The weekly report on famine for Bellary and Anantapur is as follows:—Three relief works in Bellary and seven in Anantapur are in progress. Distress is decreasing.. Coolie classes are mostly affected. People are resorting to works but numbers on relief are decreasing owing to work in fields. There is no foreign influx. The condition of the people on relief works and the public health are generally fair. No emaciation is noticeable. Relief measures are adequate. No special relief to weavers and artisans is necessary now. Cooked food is being provided by private charity in Bellary. Cheap grain shops are run by private relief committees in Anantapur. Private charity is unable to supply all clothing required by the destitute. State loans are being advanced. Prices of cholam:—Bellary 8·3 and Anantapur 7 seers per rupee. Number on relief:—Bellary—works 1,863, gratuitous 692, total, 2,555; Anantapur—works 2,860, gratuitous 1,892, total 4,752. Relief works have been closed in Kurnool.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

INTERNAL TRADE.

Delhi, the 3rd January 1922.

ORDERS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ON THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ENQUIRE INTO THE QUESTION OF INTRODUCING UNIFORM WEIGHTS AND MEASURES THROUGHOUT INDIA.

RESOLUTION.

By their Resolution No. 8492—8514-4, dated the 10th October 1913, the Government of India appointed a Committee to enquire into the question of the feasibility of introducing uniform weights and measures throughout India, and the Committee duly submitted their Report in July 1914.

2. The Government of India, however, refrained during the war from dealing with the question of the standardisation of weights and measures, as it was obvious that any radical change of system would entail at any rate a temporary dislocation of trade. A further factor which influenced this decision was the uncertainty whether the United Kingdom would adopt the metric system in its policy of post-war reconstruction; for, if it did, the arguments in the Minority Report in favour of the adoption of that system in India would have been strongly re-inforced. The Report of Lord Balfour of Burleigh's Committee on commercial and industrial policy after the war makes it clear that any alteration to the standards of the United Kingdom is highly improbable at any rate for sometime to come. The Government of India therefore consider that they are now in a position to dispose of the recommendations made by the Weights and Measures Committee with a reasonable prospect of finality.

3. The Government of India think it necessary at the outset to make a clear distinction between weights and measures from the point of view of the need for standardisation. Measures of capacity, especially dry measures, vary enormously from province to province and even from district to district. They are, however, used merely in retail trade, and the replies of the Local Governments and Administrations show with singular unanimity that discrepancies in measures of capacity do not cause so much practical inconvenience as discrepancies in weights, while their influence on inter-provincial and foreign trade is practically negligible. Subject to the restriction imposed by Section 80-A (3) (f) of the Government of India Act, read with item 29 of Part II of the first Schedule to the Devolution Rules, the Government of India, therefore, propose to leave this question at any rate for the present entirely to Local Governments who may take such action as they may think advisable to standardise dry and liquid measures of capacity within their provinces.

4. Similarly, it is not proposed to adopt all-India standards of length or area. On general grounds the Government of India consider the English measures of length and area the most prevalent and therefore the most suitable. These are the foot, yard, chain, furlong, mile and acre, the chain being divided into 100 links for land measurement. At the same time, they recognise that the use of other measures can cause no serious inconvenience from the commercial standpoint, while Local Governments are intimately concerned inasmuch as any change in these measures might cause great inconvenience in its effect on revenue records. Subject again to the restriction mentioned in the concluding sentence of paragraph 3, Local Governments will, therefore, be left a free hand to deal with this matter if and as they choose.

5. As regards weights, the Committee discussed three standards, (1) the Indian Railway standard, (2) the British standard based on a new seer exactly equal to 2 lbs., and (3) the metric system. They decided, by majority, in favour of the Railway standard of one maund=40 seers and 1 seer=80 tolas or 16 chataks. This standard has undoubtedly many arguments in its favour. It has a definite and convenient base in the tola of 180 grains, a weight which is universal throughout the country in the form of the rupee. It lends itself to multiple halving, and since it is in use on every railway, it is known throughout the country. Local Governments, who have been consulted are almost unanimous in their support of the majority finding of the Committee, and the Government of India have decided after careful consideration to confirm this decision.

6. At the same time, the method of introduction present serious difficulties. Measures of weight differ so radically throughout India that the imposition of any uniform system would necessarily entail a complete alteration in the standards prevailing throughout the greater part of the country whatever the standards adopted might be. In order to make the change effective, therefore, it would be necessary firstly to pronounce illegal from some future specified dates the possession and use of weights varying from the standard; secondly to enforce this pronouncement by definite penalties; and thirdly to ensure the substitution throughout India of standard weights for local varieties. The difficulties attending such legislation were recognised by the Committee. The Government of India fully appreciate them, and would be exceedingly loath to create by statute a new offence, specially an offence involving no moral obliquity in the minds of the people. The expense of prompt and general distribution of standard weights would also be very great.

7. The Government of India, therefore, accept the Resolution adopted by the Council of State on the 23rd September in the following terms:—

> "This Council recommends to the Governor General in Council that the Government of India should declare themselves in favour of the ultimate adoption in India, excluding Burma, of a uniform system of weights based on the scale now in use on the Railways."

The Government of India are not prepared to allow the intrinsic merits of the Railway system to weigh against the strong general arguments against compulsion, and they have, therefore, decided to limit their action first, to indicating a preference for the Railway system of weights, and second to maintaining standard weights at the chief Presidency towns. As regards Burma, they have no preference to indicate since it is clear from page 149 of the Report that Burma requires special treatment.

8. The subject of weights and measures is now provincial, with the reservation that the Government of India shall legislate as regards standards (vide item 29 of Part II, Schedule I of the Devolution Rules). The only Act regarding standardisation is the Indian Weights and Measures of Capacity Act (XXXI of 1871), but this Act has in practice no operative effect because none of the notifications prescribed by the various sections of the Act have yet been issued. It is based on the continental metric system, the seer being defined as equal to the kilogramme. The Government of India do not propose to repeal this Act nor to introduce at present any new measures prescribing all-India measures of weight or capacity. Their opinion is that Local Governments, in exercise of the power conferred upon them by the Devolution Rules, should take such executive action as they can to educate public opinion in favour of the standard maund and seer, by publicity work, by adoption in school curricula, and by any other suitable measures. Municipal bodies might be encouraged to frame bye-laws adopting this standard, and Local Governments might maintain standard weights at their respective capitals and at important trade centres. Where a Local Government considers that provincial standardisation by law is feasible, the Government of India will have no a priori objection to such legislation, on the usual understanding that they will be consulted as to the actual form which such proposed provincial legislation is to take and thus such legislation will not be introduced without obtaining the previous sanction of the Governor General under Section 80-A (3) (f) of the Government of India Act. If, subsequently, opinion develops strongly in favour of imperial standardisation of weights, the Government of India will be prepared to undertake such legislation, but at present they consider that any such step would be premature.

9. With regard to Burma, the Government of Burma have generally accepted the recommendations of the Committee summarised in Chapter VII of their Report, except in respect of measures of dry capacity, and have submitted proposals for legislation with a view to giving effect to them. The Government of India in approving these proposals have suggested that the necessary legislation might be postponed until the Reformed Legislature comes into existence in that province.

ORDER.—Ordered that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information.

Ordered also that a copy be forwarded to all Local Governments and Administrations, other Departments of the Government of India, Collectors of Customs, Director-General of Commercial Intelligence, Director of Statistics, His Majesty's Trade Commissioner in India, and the Indian Trade Commissioners in London and East Africa, for information.

MEMORANDUM ON THE PROBABLE CHARACTER OF THE WEATHER IN NORTHWEST INDIA IN JANUARY, FEBRUARY AND MARCH 1922.

DATA OF RECENT WEATHER.

(a) The conditions in Persia and northwest India.—At Baghdad and in Persia the amount of precipitation was about four times as great as usual in November, but roughly normal in December. In Baluchistan there was a slight excess in November and a very large excess in December. In the North-West Frontier Province and Kashmir precipitation was of about half the usual amount in November but was over three times the average in December. In the western Himalayas the seasonal snowfall began roughly at the normal time.

(b) The seasonal changes in the upper air in northern India.—Before October the winds at heights of about six miles are as a rule of moderate strength, but before the end of November they increase to eighty miles an hour. This year, although the character of the winds has been somewhat variable, the high winds have on the whole set in earlier than usual.

(c) Indian pressure.—Pressure averaged over India was above normal by ·037″ in October and ·045″ in November.

(d) Rainfall at Seychelles and Zanzibar.—At Seychelles rainfall was 1″·60 in defect in November and 2″·56 in excess in December. At Zanzibar rainfall was 3″·58 in defect in December.

DISCUSSION.

2. The winter rains of northwest India are brought by a series of depressions from southeast Europe and the Mediterranean, and although in the plains of India no appreciable rain falls before January the depressions give rain and snow in Syria, Mesopotamia, Persia, Baluchistan and Kashmir in November and December. Experience shows that, as might be expected, there is a strong tendency towards persistence in the character of the winter, so that the weather of November and December affords an indication of that in the succeeding months. Statistical investigations also establish a favourable influence of abundant rain in November and December at Seychelles and Zanzibar, as well as of high pressure in India in October and November.

3. The present season has set in with clearly marked severity, and of the four factors which control the amount of rain and snow in northwest India in January, February and March (a) is very strongly favourable, (b) and (c) are moderately favourable, and (d) alone is slightly adverse. Hence the resulting indication is distinctly favourable.

SUMMARY.

It is probable that the rainfall of northwest India in January, February and March, including that of the west of the United Provinces in January and February, together with the snowfall on the neighbouring hills, will be in excess.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE AND AGRICULTURE.

Season and Crop Prospects for the week ending Saturday, 7th January 1922.

Burma.—The week was rainless. Reaping of winter rice has been nearly completed. Threshing and winnowing have begun in Upper Burma. Harvesting of cotton and groundnut has been practically completed. Sowing of miscellaneous crops continues. Standing crops are good. Cattle are generally healthy. The price of unhusked rice was Rs. 155 to Rs. 165 and that of white rice (specials) Rs. 380 per hundred baskets.

Assam.—The weather is seasonable and favourable. Harvesting of winter rice and pulses, plucking of cotton and transplanting of spring rice continue The outturn of the transplanted winter rice is good and that of cotton below normal. Cattle disease is reported from two districts. The price of common rice remained unchanged.

Bengal.—Excepting light and scattered showers in parts of the Presidency and Burdwan divisions no rain fell throughout the Province. Reaping of winter paddy and sowing of spring crops are almost over. Prospects of standing crops are generally fair. The average price of common rice has fallen by 1·5 per cent.

Bihar and Orissa.—Light showers fell in the districts of Orissa, Monghyr, the Santal Parganas. Hazaribagh and Singhbhum and in parts of Gaya, Shahabad, Champaran, Bhagalpur and Palamau. No rain was received in the rest of the Province. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Harvesting of winter paddy is nearing completion. Threshing continues. Standing spring crops are generally doing well but rain is wanted in Gaya. The price of common rice has risen in six districts, fallen in three and remained stationary in the remainder. The average price of local common rice at headquarters excluding Angul was 7·54 seers a rupee against 7·61 seers in the preceding week and that of maize was 10·26 seers against 10·73 seers in the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from eleven districts. The condition of standing crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa and Chota Nagpur is good.

United Provinces.—Light to moderate rain fell in most districts and was beneficial to spring crops. Slight damage by frost is reported to arhar and gram from a few villages in Cawnpore. Preparation of land for sugarcane and extra crops, irrigation of spring crops and poppy and pressing of sugarcane continue Standing crops are in good condition. Prospects are favourable. The condition of agricultural stocks is satisfactory, though cattle disease is still prevalent in places Fodder, water and market supplies are sufficient. Prices continue to be high.

Punjab.—Except in the west light rain has fallen in parts of all the reporting districts. It was useful for standing crops but more rain is badly wanted everywhere. Picking of cotton is nearing completion Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of toria still continue. The yield of cotton is below normal and that of other crops generally normal. The condition of wheat and other standing spring crops is generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated areas. Cattle are healthy. Green fodder and water are sufficient. Stocks of foodgrains are generally insufficient. Price of wheat: Rawalpindi 3½, Ambala, Lahore and Lyallpur 4 and Ferozepur 4⅞ seers per rupee.

North-West Frontier Province.—Beneficial rain fell throughout the Province. Sowings of spring crops are proceeding satisfactorily and pressing of sugarcane is in progress. The outturn is good. The condition of standing crops is generally good. Fodder and water are generally sufficient Prices of foodgrains continue to be dangerously high. Wheat is selling in Peshawar at 4 seers and in Dera Ismail Khan at 3¾ seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Slight rain fell during the week. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are stationary.

Kashmir.—The week was generally rainy, snowy and cold. No cattle disease is reported. Prices are stationary.

Baluchistan.—(Report for week ending 31st December 1921.)—More rain fell during the week. The condition of spring crops is so far very good. Wheat sowing is still in progress in Khushkabas. The economic condition and prices, however, remain unaltered except for a slight rise in Quetta prices. The price of juar has fallen appreciably owing to an excellent autumn harvest in Sibi and Kachhi plains which has offered considerable relief, though temporary, in the plains as well as highlands. Local stocks of wheat are very low and arrangements are being made to import forty thousand maunds of wheat from Seistan. Numbers of destitute persons are being railed to Sibi where the climate is milder and work can be found more easily at present. 56 persons were employed on relief works in Quetta-Pishin. Relief works have stopped elsewhere on account of the rains. Atta is still being issued from the cheap atta shop in Chaman. The condition of livestock is good. Fodder is sufficient except in Chaqu and Pishin.

Rajputana.—The weather was cloudy and cold. Light showers are reported from Jaipur, Kishangarh, Bharatpur, Kotah and Jhalawar. Spring crops are being irrigated and are in good condition. The probable outturn of the autumn crops is 6 to 16 annas in the rupee. Picking of cotton continues in places. Cotton has been damaged somewhat by the cold weather in Biawar. Agricultural stock is good except in parts of Kotah, where cattle disease is reported. Fodder is scanty in Jhalawar. Water is sufficient. Prices are stationary.

Central India.- The rainfall was partial in Bhopal, Baghelkhand, Malwa and the Southern States and was insufficient in the Rampura-Bhanpura district. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in Indore and Manpur. Spring crops are being irrigated in the Southern States and Malwa. Picking of cotton is in progress in Indore, Malwa and the Southern State The condition of standing crops is fair to good except in Bhopal where spring crops are suffering for want of rain. The probable outturn is fair to good except in the Rampura-Bhanpura district and Bhopal. The condition of agricultural stock is fair to good except for cattle disease in Kurwai and in parts of Rewa. The condition of opium is fair in Indore, but the cultivation is only four annas in the rupee and good in Malwa except in the Sitamau State. Prices are high.

Gwalior.—(Report for week ending 31st December 1921.)—The condition of standing spring crops is good. Winnowing and threshing of autumn crops are in progress. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Sowing of spring crops has been generally completed. The probable outturn of autumn crops is ten to fourteen annas. Cattle disease still prevails. Prices of juar and bajra have dropped slightly and of other foodgrains continue to be high. Weeding and watering of opium continue. Cotton picking is in progress.

Central Provinces.—The weather continues to be cool and occasionally cloudy. Twelve districts received light to moderate rain, the heaviest fall being 5 inches in Buldana where the rain was accompanied by hail and caused some damage to wheat. Frost also did some damage in Damoh. Threshing and winnowing of autumn crops and picking of cotton are approaching completion. The rainfall during the week has improved the prospects. Standing crops are generally in good condition. Sporadic cattle disease still prevails in places; otherwise agricultural stock is generally in good condition. There is no deficiency of fodder or water. Gram in Chhindwara, rice in Wardha and juar in Narsinghpur rose while rice fell in Bilaspur by 1 to 1¼ seers per rupee. Other fluctuations are unimportant and irregular.

Feudatory States:—Light to moderate rain fell in the States. Spring crops are in good condition.

Bombay.—Rain fell during the week in parts of Surat, the Deccan and the Karnatak and was beneficial to standing crops which are thriving. Crops are slightly damaged by frost in parts of Karachi, Hyderabad and Nawabshah and are withering for want of sufficient moisture in some parts of the Deccan. Harvesting of autumn crops is nearing completion. Threshing continues. Picking of cotton is progressing in Hyderabad, Thar and Parkar, West Khandesh, Ahmednagar and Baroda. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Water for drinking and irrigation is adequate. Cattle are good. Prices show a tendency to fall.

Hyderabad.—Light to heavy showers fell during the week all over the dominions. The average fall was 89 cents. The autumn harvest is over except for cotton which is being picked. Sowing of late rice is in progress. The condition of spring crops, wheat, juar, gram, linseed, castor, etc., is fair to good. The week's rain is reported to have slightly damaged the juar and gram crops in some places. The water and fodder supply is adequate. Stocks of foodgrains are sufficient. Employment is available. Prospects are generally fair. Prices of foodgrains continue stationary. Juar is selling at 3½ seers per rupee in the Nizamabad district.

The weekly report on famine for week ending 31st December 1921 is as follows:—No rain fell during the week. Prices of rice and juar show an appreciable fall. The former is selling at 3½ seers to 5 and the latter at 4 to 9 seers per rupee. Number on relief in hundreds:—works nil, gratuitous 4, total 4.

Mysore.—The rainfall during the week was fair to light. Prices of foodgrains are generally steady. Markets are well supplied. Standing crops are in good condition. The outturn of the harvested paddy, ragi and sugarcane is fair. Prospects of the season are generally good. Cattle are healthy. Water and fodder are available.

Coorg.—The rainfall was light and the weather cloudy. Picking of coffee and reaping of rice continue. The outturn of rice is slightly below the average. Water and fodder for cattle are available. The public health is good. Prices of foodgrains are high.

Madras.—The rainfall during the week was moderate in the Agency, Chingleput, South Arcot, North Arcot and the hills, nil in Godavari and Cochin and light or fair elsewhere. Standing crops are fair but are withering in parts of South Arcot and Chittoor. The outturn of the harvested paddy and dry crops is generally fair to normal. Sowings of paddy and dry crops are proceeding except in the extreme south-west coast. The condition of cattle is good. Water is sufficient generally except in parts of Chingleput, South Arcot, the central districts and the south-west coast Pasture and fodder are generally sufficient. Prices are tending to fall. Prospects are generally fair, but the labour condition is unsatisfactory in parts of Malabar affected by the Mopla outbreak. Three test works are in progress in Kurnool with an attendance of 1,140 persons. Gratuitous relief was given to 952 persons.

The weekly report on famine in Bellary and Anantapur is as follows:—Three relief works in Bellary and four in Anantapur are in progress. Distress is decreasing. Coolie classes are mostly affected. People are resorting to works except those who work in fields. There is no foreign influx. The condition of the people on relief works and the public health are generally fair. No emaciation is noticeable. Relief measures are adequate. No special relief to weavers and artizans is necessary. Cooked food is being provided by private charity in Bellary. Private charity is unable to supply all clothing required by the destitute. State loans are being advanced in Bellary. Prices of cholam :—Bellary 8·2 and Anantapur 7 seers per rupee. Rule 3.—(a) Departmental leave may not be granted except to a Government servant whose services are temporarily not required.

(b) It may be granted during the recess by the head of the party or office to which the Government servant belongs: provided, in the case of a menial, that the officer granting the leave considers it desirable to re-employ the menial in the ensuing season.

(c) It may be granted at times other than the recess, for not more than six months at a time, by Superintendents in charge of circles or the Superintendent of the Trigonometrical Survey, provided that the leave is granted in the interests of Government and not at the Government servant's own request; and leave so granted may in special cases be extended by the Surveyor-General up to a maximum of one year in all. Leave on medical certificate should never be regarded as granted in the interests of Government.

Rule 4.—Departmental leave may be granted on such leave-salary, not exceeding half-pay, as the officer granting the leave may think fit. The leave-salary is payable on return to duty after the expiration of the leave, and is not payable unless the Government servant returns to duty when required by his superior officer to do so. If, however, a Government servant dies while on departmental leave, his leave-salary up to the date of his death will be paid to his heirs.

Rule 5.—Departmental leave does not count as duty and will be debited to the leave account as though it were leave on half average pay.

Rule 6.—Departmental leave may be granted when no leave is due. Departmental leave granted shall not be taken into account when calculating the maximum amount of leave admissible under fundamental rule 81 (a).

Rule 7.—Departmental leave may be combined with any other kind of leave which may be due.

Rule 8.—When a Government servant subject to these rules holds a post in which the Surveyor-General considers that he is unlikely to be eligible for departmental leave in future, the Surveyor-General may, by special order in writing, declare that, with effect from such date, not being earlier than the Government servant's last return from departmental leave, as the Surveyor-General may fix, any balance of leave at debit in the Government servant's leave account shall be cancelled. All leave earned after such date will be credited as due in the Government servant's leave account, and all leave taken after such date, including departmental leave, if any, will be debited in it.

DEPARTMENT OF INDUSTRIES.

Delhi, the 12th January 1922.

CONSTITUTION OF A NATIONAL ELECTRO-TECHNICAL COMMITTEE FOR INDIA IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE RESOLUTION OF THE CHAMBER OF GOVERNMENT DELEGATES AT THE INTERNATIONAL ELECTRICAL CONGRESS OF ST. LOUIS IN SEPTEMBER 1904.

RESOLUTION.

In the year 1908 an International Electro-technical Commission was formed with its headquarters in London for the purpose of carrying out the following resolution of the Chamber of Government Delegates at the International Electrical Congress of St. Louis in September 1904:—

> "That steps should be taken to secure the co-operation of the technical Societies of the world by the appointment of a representative Commission to consider the question of the standardisation of the Nomenclature and Ratings of Electrical Apparatus and Machinery".

2. Under the Statutes of the Commission each self-governing country desiring to join the Commission is authorised to form an Electro-technical Committee for its own country. The question of constituting a National Committee for India was considered by the Government of India in 1910. It was, however, decided to postpone its organisation as the manufacture of electrical machinery in India was at that time on too small a scale to justify the formation of a Committee. The Government of India have, nevertheless, been represented at the meetings of the Commission and have subscribed regularly to its funds. Although little further progress has yet been made in the actual manufacture of electrical machinery in this country, the Government of India, after consultation with the more important firms interested in electrical matters in India, are of opinion that, in view of the large increase which has taken place in recent years in the sale and use of electrical machinery in this country, the time has now arrived when a local committee should be formed for the purpose of discussing points of interest specially relating to India, of forwarding to the Commission any resolutions which it may frame on the subject and, generally, of performing the functions of a National Committee.

3. According to the Statutes of the International Electro-technical Commission committees should be formed in each country by technical societies which deal with electrical engineering, either exclusively or in conjunction with other technical subjects, provided that such societies have been in existence for at least three years. In the absence of such technical societies a committee may be appointed by the Government. The Government of India are of opinion that the appointment of a National Committee may in the future most suitably be entrusted to the recently constituted Institution of Engineers (India), but as it was constituted as recently as the 13th September 1920 it will not possess the necessary authority until the 13th September 1923. For the intervening period the Government of India have therefore decided to constitute a National Electro-technical Committee for India under paragraph 3 of the Statutes of the Commission. The following gentlemen will form the first committee:—

1. A. C. Coubrough, Esq., C.B.E. (of Messrs. Mather and Platt, Limited, Calcutta).

2. A. Cochran, Esq., C.B.E., M.L.C., M.I.N.A., M.I.E. (India), A.M.I.E.S. (of Messrs. Burn and Company, Calcutta).

3. C. D. M. Hindley, Esq., M.A. (Cantab.), Chairman, Port Trust, Calcutta.

4. The Committee will choose its own President and appoint a Secretary and proceed with its work in accordance with the Statutes of the International Electro-technical Commission. The subscription hitherto paid by the Government of India as a subvention to the Commission and towards the cost of its publication will in future be paid by the Committee to which the Government of India will until further orders make an annual grant of £130.

ORDERED that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations; to all Departments of the Government of India; and to the Members of the Committee; and that the Resolution be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

Secretary to the Government of India.

APPLICATION FOR AMENDMENT UNDER SECTION 17.

Notice is hereby given that all persons interested in opposing the following application to amend, may at any time within three months of the date of this Gazette give notice at the Patent Office in the prescribed form No. 5 of such opposition.

No. 6370. Frederick William Mennell, of Lyons Range, Calcutta, seeks leave to amend the specification of his application for a patent numbered as above. The proposed amendments are as follows :—

In a further alternative form of my invention the lever Grip' may be converted into a rocking lever by means of a slot cut near the head of the lever and mounted on the standard which latter in that event would be provided with a larger aperture and a bar or pin across the top which bar passing through the slot in the lever, is in contact with the top, bottom of the slot cut in the lever, serves as a fulcrom to open the lever grip.

Referring to figures 7 and 8 the head of the standard 6 is cut to permit the insertion of the lever 7 and a bar or pin across the top of the standard passes through the slot 5 of the lever 7. The action of depressing the mounted member 3 causes the top part of the slot 5 to come into contact with the bar or pin fixed to the top of standard 6 thus imparting rise to the lever 7 and as the mounted member 3 is further depressed the lever 7 rises rapidly, the slot 5 enabling the hinged end of the lever 7 to be carried down to its fullest extent thus imparting full rise to the opposite splayed out end of the lever 7. On release of the pressure the bottom part of the slot 6 on coming into contact with the bar or pin through the action of the spring closes the File.

7. A File for letter papers and the like wherein the lever grip has a slot cut near the head through which a bar or pin at the top of the standard is passed and the top and bottom of the slot on coming into contact with the bar or pin serves as a fulcrum to open and close the lever grip and to maintain pressure on the upper face of the mounted member which forms the file.

8. A File substantially as claimed made in miniature to be either used separately as a letter clip or rivetted to a suitably sized piece of mail board, wood or metal.

Add two new Figures (Figures VII and VIII) to the drawings.

CESSATION OF EXCLUSIVE PRIVILEGES.

The public are warned that entries under this heading must not be accepted as final, as under the provisions of Rules 9 and 11 of "The Indian Patents and Designs (Temporary) Rules, 1915," the Controller may extend the time prescribed by the Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911, and by the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888, for paying the necessary renewal fees.

Prices of Country Produce and Salt in India in the first fortnight of December, 1921, as compared with the preceding fortnight.

The average wholesale prices of cereals and pulses in India in the middle of December, 1921, declined by 2 per cent, as compared with the preceding fortnight, the decrease being chiefly due to the fall in prices of jawar, arhar dál and maize by 5, 4 and 2 per cent, respectively. Those of wheat and bajra fell by 1 per cent each. Rice, barley and gram recorded no change. There was also a fall of 9 per cent in the price of raw sugar (gúr), of 2 per cent in salt, and of 1 per cent in ghi.

With regard to provincial prices the noteworthy fluctuations were:—in barley a rise of 10 per cent in Delhi; in jawar a fall of 13 per cent in the Bombay Presidency and 11 per cent in the Central Provinces and Berar; in maize and arhar dál a decline of 26 and 13 per cent, respectively, in Sind-Baluchistan; and in raw sugar (gúr) a fall of 20 per cent in Delhi, 17 per cent in Sind-Baluchistan, 16 per cent in the North-West Frontier Province, 13 per cent in the United Provinces, and 10 per cent in Bihar and Orissa.

Rice prices in Bengal rose by 3 per cent while wheat in the Punjab fell by 1 per cent.

These fluctuations are shown in the summary table below:—

If the Executive Council does not accept the nomination of the committee, it shall refer the case to the Chancellor, who shall make such appointment as he thinks fit.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is the establishment and incorporation of a unitary, teaching and residential University at Delhi. It is intended to provide for a local University on the model recommended in the case of Dacca by the Calcutta University Commission. Delhi is a suitable centre for the location of such a University, being the winter capital of the Government of India and already containing three Arts Colleges as well as the Lady Hardinge Medical College for Women. Moreover, should the Punjab University undergo reorganisation in view of the recommendations of the Commission, it appears probable that the existence of colleges at Delhi would complicate the problem, while any concentration of higher teaching in Lahore would be likely to react unfavourably upon those colleges. The general scheme for a University at Delhi has been under consideration with the representatives of the local colleges from time to time during the last two years, and the details have further been considered by a sub-committee.

2. The provisions of the Bill generally follow those contained in the Dacca University Act, though in certain points the provisions of the Lucknow University Act have been preferred. Among the divergencies from the Dacca University Act which are deserving of mention, are the following :

(i) The proportion of members of the Court nominated by the Chancellor has been reduced in comparison with the number of members elected by registered graduates.

(ii) At least two of the members elected by the Court as their representatives on the Executive Council are to be members of the Court elected by registered graduates.

(iii) No provision is made for a Selection Committee in England.

(iv) Communal representation is provided only to a limited degree and no provision is made for such representation in the academic body.

Other modifications are dictated by local circumstances. The Government will be the Government of India and the Chancellor the Governor General. There is some modification in the distribution of functions between the Government, the Chancellor and the Vice-Chancellor. The existing colleges will retain the name of colleges and the power of appointment of their staff; but the recognition of the members of the staff of a college as teachers of the University will be given by the University itself. The Faculties which will be instituted as soon as possible are those of Arts, Science, Medicine and Commerce.

3. As the provision of sufficient funds for the complete realisation of this University and the erection of suitable buildings will be a matter of time, it is proposed in the first instance to commence work with the existing colleges in their present buildings and to permit them gradually to modify their organisation, especially with reference to the separation of intermediate classes, in such a manner as to permit of the development of the University in its eventual form. In order that this may be done without undue dislocation in the colleges, the transitory provisions are particularly wide and permit of considerable divergence during the initial years from the form of the University as eventually contemplated.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of State on the 17th January, 1922 :—

No. 1 OF 1922.

A Bill to amend the Benares Hindu University Act, 1915.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Benares Hindu University Act, 1915; It is hereby enacted as follows :— XVI of 1915.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Benares Hindu University (Amendment) Act, 1922.

Amendment of section 9, Act XVI of 1915.

2. For sub-section (2) of section 9 of the Benares Hindu University Act, 1915, the following shall be substituted, namely :— XVI of 1915.

"(2) No person not being a Hindu shall become or be appointed a member of any Court other than the first Court unless he has been a member of the first Court."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is intended to give effect to a Resolution passed by the Court of the Benares Hindu University. Under section 9, sub-section (2) of the Benares Hindu Universities Act, 1915 (XVI of 1915), no person, not being a Hindu, may become, or be appointed, a member of the Court, save in the case of the first Court. The object of the legislation proposed is to permit the retention on the Court of any member, even though not a Hindu, of the first Court of the University.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 17th January 1922:—

No. 2 OF 1922.

A Bill to further amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enable all High Courts to issue directions in the nature of a Habeas Corpus in the case of all persons over whom they have jurisdiction, original or appellate; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 192 .

Amendment of section 491, Act V of 1898.

2. In sub-section (1) of section 491 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898— V of 1898.

(a) the words "at Fort William, Madras and Bombay," shall be omitted, and

(b) in clause (a) after the word "jurisdiction" the words "or appellate jurisdiction" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is no reason why all High Courts should not have the power to issue directions in the nature of Habeas Corpus, nor is there any adequate reason why the protection afforded by the section should be confined only to persons living within the ordinary original jurisdiction of a High Court. In the case of European British subjects the power to deal with unlawful detention of persons is given to all High Courts, and extends to persons within the appellate jurisdiction also.

The object of this amendment is to extend the scope of the section so as to include all High Courts and all persons subject to the appellate jurisdiction. Experience has shown that such an extension is necessary.

Letter from the Government of Bombay, dated 18th July 1921, and enclosures.

In clause 1 we have inserted an extent clause in the form in which it appears in the Indian Emigration Act, 1908.

In clause 2—

(1) We have revised the definition of "dependent" with the object of restricting an emigrant's dependents to his relatives. It is possible that in certain cases the dependents of an emigrant may not travel by the same ship as the emigrant, and we have, therefore, omitted the words "accompanying an emigrant."

(2) In the definition of "emigrant," we have restored the words "and includes any dependent of an emigrant" which are in the Act of 1908. We have also excluded from the definition of emigrant two classes of persons to whom we consider that the Act should not apply. The first class consists of persons who have lived abroad as emigrants for five years and their families, and the second class consists of the families of persons who have lawfully emigrated.

(3) We have re-drafted without making any change of substance the definition of "emigrate" and "emigration", and we have made it clear that assistance does not include assistance of a relative. On this last point, we have provided for the settling of doubts by an addition to clause 2 (ii).

Clauses 3 and 5.—As emigration is a central subject, we considered that the power of the Local Government to appoint Protectors of Emigrants should be expressed to be subject to the control of the Governor General in Council. We have supplied an omission by providing that a person appointed under clause 5 to perform the duties of a Protector of Emigrants shall be a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code.

Clause 4 (c).—The Bill, as introduced, imposed on the Protector of Emigrants a duty which it would have been impossible for him to perform. We have modified this sub-clause to allow of the extent and manner of inspection being prescribed by rule.

Clause 4 (d).—The change is verbal only.

Clause (4) (f).—For the protection from annoyance at the time of leaving India of the two classes of persons excluded from the definition of emigrant, we have provided that the Protector of Emigrants shall, on application, issue certificates stating that the Act does not apply to those persons. It will not be obligatory on such persons to obtain these certificates, and the certificates themselves will not be conclusive proof that such persons belong to the class to which they claim to belong. But we think that the grant of the certificates will afford a fair measure of protection and that the provision is desirable in view of the powers of arrest with which the Police are necessarily invested.

Clause 6.—If intending emigrants are collected at places other than a port from which emigration is allowed, it is desirable that there should be statutory power to appoint Medical Inspectors at such a place.

Clause 7.—The change is of drafting only.

Clause 8.—We have supplied an omission.

Clause 9.—As there is a steady flow of emigrants to Ceylon and the Straits Settlements from the ports of Tuticorin, Negapatam and Dhanushkodi, we have thought fit to insert those ports by name in the Bill.

Clause 11.—We consider that the Central Government should have concurrent powers with the Local Governments under this clause, as the information may reach the Central Government first. The re-drafting of clause 11 to give this power involves the re-drafting of clause 12.

Clause 13.—As emigration is a central subject, we consider that the prohibition should issue in the name of the Governor General in Council. Owing to the special interest taken by the Legislature in matters of emigration, we consider that reasons for issuing the Notification should be stated therein, and that the Notification should be brought to the notice of Members of the Legislature by being laid on the table.

Clause 16.—The alterations are of drafting only.

Clause 19.—This clause as introduced reproduces verbatim the contents of section 78 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1908; but we consider that it should be amplified in order to make it clear that the security furnished by a person engaging an emigrant for skilled work shall in no case be returned to him until after the expiry of the period covered by the engagement, and until the Local Government is satisfied that the emigrant has been fairly treated.

Clause 21.—We have provided that the issue of a prohibitory Notification shall be brought to the notice of the Legislature.

Clause 23.—Emigration being a central subject and some degree of uniformity being desirable in the different provinces, we have thought fit to make the rule-making powers of the Local Governments subject to the control of the Governor General in Council.

Clause 24.—We have thought proper to set forth in greater detail the matters in respect of which rules are liable to be made. We are content, so far as the Bill is concerned, that subject to the condition of previous publication already provided, the Governor General in Council should be the rule-making power. At the same time, we think we are not exceeding our functions in placing on record our opinion that on the passing of this Bill a Standing Committee should be constituted which would be consulted by the Governor General in Council before the issue of any rules under this clause.

Clause 25.—We have remodelled this clause and have reduced the maximum penalty for the comparatively minor offences of unlawfully emigrating, or attempting to emigrate, to Rs. 50. In sub-clause (2) (a), we have supplied an omission. We have re-drafted sub-clause (2) (b) to meet a doubt whether a person residing at a port of embarkation could, in view of the definition of "emigrate", be said to leave that port for the purpose of emigrating, and by the new sub-clause (c) we have inserted a provision which had inadvertently dropped out in the drafting of the Bill, reproducing the contents of clause (c) of section 96 of the Indian Emigration Act, 1908.

Clause 28.—In adding the proviso to this clause, we have followed a suggestion of the Allahabad High Court. It appears to us desirable that, where an emigrant or intended emigrant has been victimised, he or certain near relatives should have the right to complain.

Clause 30 (1).—The insertion in sub-clause (1) is consequential on the insertion in the definition of "emigrate" and "emigration" in clause 2.

Clause 30 (2).—The alteration in sub-clause (2) and the addition of sub-clause (3) are consequential on the alterations effected in clause 25.

Clause 31 (1).—We have been advised that the despatch of an Expeditionary Force of the Indian Army would only be permissible under this Bill, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter IV after a Notification under clause 2 (1) (f). As the Bill was never intended to apply either to combatants or to labour corps, we have definitely excluded them from its operation.

Clause 32.—The existing Act does not touch emigration to Ceylon, the Straits Settlements and the Malay States, but on the passing of this Bill into law emigration to these countries will be subject to the provisions of the law, and consequently emigration will be interrupted pending the issue of Notifications under clause 10, the framing of rules under clauses 23 and 24 and the appointments of officers under various clauses. For this reason we have exempted from the operation of this Bill for the space of one year emigration to those countries.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

1. I do not approve of placing this Act, which obviously restricts the legitimate freedom of action of labourers, permanently on the Statute-book. The main reason for the existence of such an Act is political, and as I confidently hope that the political conditions will rapidly improve, I think this Act should be passed for a limited period, say, five years.

2. I am not in favour of section 25 (1). I think the mere detention of the labourer should suffice. It is wrong to fine a man for doing a thing which is legitimate, but which he is not allowed to do for political reasons.

N. M. JOSHI.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

(Recorded under Standing Order 41 (5) of the Assembly by Rai Sahib Lakshmi Narayan Lal to the Report, by the Select Committee, on the Emigration Bill.)

CHAPTER I.

Clause 2 (c).

The Statement of Objects and Reasons of the Bill shows that the first object of the Bill is to prevent indentured emigration. In the words of the Honourable Sir George Barnes one of the objects of the Bill is to safeguard ourselves against the resurrection of indentured emigration in any form, but the very definition of an emigrant in clause 21 (c), as a person "under an agreement to work for hire" suggests indentured emigration. The Bill should not itself contain provisions which may be interpreted as contemplating the possibility of indentured emigration, rather it should state in clear terms that the emigration of any worker under an agreement to work for hire will not be allowed, and that if the Indian emigrates he shall go free of any indenture and shall not be allowed to enter into any agreement to work for hire or to engage in any particular emigration. If there should be a contract about pay, repatriation, etc., of the emigrants, it should be between the Government of India and the Government of the country of emigration, and if the latter countenances the placing on contract of any emigrant after his arrival in that country, the fact should be considered sufficient ground for suspending or prohibiting altogether emigration to that country. The words (a) "under an agreement to work for hire or when" and (b) "so to depart" should be omitted from this definition.

(2)

Clause 2 (f) and (g).

The definitions of "skilled work" and "unskilled work" have been framed according to the purposes for which the employer engages or assists the emigrant.

The same person who can be engaged or assisted for the purpose of unskilled work can be really well engaged or assisted in the name of skilled work as a shop assistant, domestic servant, etc., and be actually engaged in agriculture or other unskilled work in the country of emigration. Such a definition, therefore, may serve to frustrate the object of clause 10 (2) and persons may be engaged or assisted to emigrate in the name of "skilled work" and be actually engaged in unskilled work even in the country to which emigration may not be permitted by the Indian Legislature under clause 10 (2).

The definition of "skilled work" should be made more definite by fixing any minimum standard of pay for "skilled work," and "unskilled work" should be placed below that standard.

CHAPTER II.

Clauses 3 (1) and 5.

A Protector of Emigrants should be appointed in every province containing any port from where emigration is lawful and he should be in charge of a reliable Bureau of Information for supplying the details of the conditions prevailing in the countries of emigration to anybody who wants to know the same.

Clause 7.

The Governor General in Council should appoint an agent in every foreign state of emigration and should arrange with the foreign states concerned for the recognition of such agents, arranging with foreign states for such recognition and generally for the safeguarding of the interests of the emigrants should be the essential preliminary to emigration to such countries being permitted; no emigration should be permitted to countries the administration whereof would not be prepared to recognise the agent or to listen to him to relieve reasonable grievances of the emigrants and give them adequate protection.

Clause 8.

The Advisory Committee should consist of non-official members, including partly some of the non-official members of the Legislative Council of the Province and should be elected by the Legislative Council every year.

In order to exercise an effective control on the agents of the employers, every member of the committee should be authorised to enter into and inspect the emigrants depôts or quarters of the Province.

CHAPTER III.

Clause 9 (1).

As India stands much in the need of her own sons for the development of her Industries upon which the success of the Reforms largely depends; if indentured emigration is at all to be introduced, it should in no case be allowed for the purpose of "unskilled work"; only those who may have better prospects of fixed minimum standard of pay may leave their hearth and home and emigrate for the skilled work. (On being assisted by the employer but without any engagement) under the next Chapter; of course those who like may emigrate freely and the Act does not apply to them; in any case the following provisions are essential:—

(7)

Clause 1.

The provisions of section 4 (2) of the old Act have been omitted. They are as follows:—

Section 4 (2) of Act XVII of 1908.

"Every notification under this section must contain a declaration that the Governor General in Council has been duly certified that the Government of the country to which the notification refers has made such laws and other provisions as the Governor General in Council thinks sufficient for the protection of emigrants to that country during their residence therein."

This section should be reproduced with the following additions at the end:—

"and has recognised equality of status and citizenship of British Indians in that country."

(8)

Clause 10 (2).

When the Indian Legislature has been given the power of approving the notification it should also be vested with the power of cancelling the said approval whenever it considers it so desirable.

(9)

Clause 13.

In consonance with the principles of clause 10 (2), this power to prohibit emigration should also be vested in the Indian Legislature.

CHAPTER IV.

(10)

Clause 15.

This clause does not make any provision as to the countries to which emigration shall be lawful. The provisions of section 10 (1) and (2) should apply to "skilled work" emigration also.

(11)

Clause 16.

Under these clauses the application can be made regarding emigrants for "skilled work" who are either to be engaged or assisted; in no case the application should be allowed for emigrants to be engaged on hire (for the reasons stated in the definitions of "skilled" and "unskilled" labour clause 2 (f) and (g)).

In any case the provisions for the health, safety, general welfare and security, etc., contained in clause 16 (d) (i), (ii) and (iii) should be made applicable to those emigrants also who are assisted to emigrate for "skilled work."

The security should be cash security sufficient to adequately compensate every emigrant.

Clause 21.

In the case of "unskilled work" section 10 (2) vests the power of approval of the notification in the Indian Legislature, but no such power has been given in the case of "skilled work"; at least the power of prohibition under this clause should be vested in the Indian Legislature.

CHAPTER V.

Clauses 23 and 24.

Many of the sections of the old Act regarding the welfare of the emigrant have been omitted in this Bill with an idea of making those provisions under these rules; this has clearly the effect of curtailing the power of the Legislature, which, after the inauguration of the Reforms, should be augmented; these powers should therefore be vested in the Indian Legislature.

CHAPTER VI.

Clause 25 (a).

The Bill does not apply to free emigrants but only to those who emigrate on being engaged or assisted, so the real offender is the man who engages or assists to emigrate against the law and not the emigrant himself; any provision for punishing the emigrant will prove an obstacle to free emigration and will create an additional source of trouble to the people. So the emigrant should not be arrested or punished but should be prevented from emigrating unless and until he proves before the Protector that he is free emigrant; in no case the dependents (who are included in the definition of emigrant under clause 2 (1) (b) hould be made to suffer.

The suggestions made herein are in consonance with some of the opinions of those who were invited to furnish the same.

I hold that in order that the report of the Committee be convincing to the Assembly to those from whom opinions have been invited as well as to the general public, all such opinions should be classified under the different clauses to which they relate and the grounds for agreeing with or differing from them should be mentioned in the report.

LAKSHMINARAYAN LAL.

MINUTE OF DISSENT.

I sign this Report subject to my reserving the right to move the following addition to section 10 of the Bill :—

" Emigration should ordinarily be permitted to countries only in which—

(a) Indians when not naturalised are subjected to no disabilities to which the nationals of other European countries are not subjected ;

(b) Indians can be naturalised on the same essential conditions on which nationals of other European countries can be naturalised ;

(c) Indians, if naturalised, enjoy full rights of citizenship ; and

(d) generally, Indians enjoy substantially the same political rights as other classes of His Majesty's subjects."

Dr. Gour and Mr. Narain Dass Girdhar Dass were unable to attend the meetings of the Committee. Under the provisions of rule 41 of the Indian Legislative Rules we elected the Honourable Sir Alexander Murray, Kt., C.B.E., to act as Chairman.

Clause 1 (2).—We have amended the extent clause of the Bill by the addition of the words "British Baluchistan and", as we agree with the recommendation of the all-India Income-tax Committee that the provisions of the Bill should be extended in full to British Baluchistan.

Clause 2 (1).—We have amended the provisions of this sub-clause in order to make it clear that rent or revenue derived from land used for agricultural purposes is exempt from Income-tax only in cases where the land is assessed to land revenue by an authority in British India or subject to a local rate assessed and collected by an authority in British India, and that the exemption does not apply to cases where the land pays revenue or local rate to authorities outside British India. We have amended sub-clause (b) of this clause also in order to make it clear that the limitation in clause (a) applies also to the incomes specified in clause (b), so that income derived from agriculture will only be exempt if the agriculture is in respect of land on which land revenue or local rate is paid to an authority in British India. We have omitted from this definition the words 'but does not include income derived from forestry'.

We have considered the suggestion of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce that the tea industry should not be taxed unless and until agricultural income generally is brought under taxation but we cannot recommend any change in the present position. We recognise the difficulties involved in the separation of industrial from purely agricultural profits, but we think it must be left to the revenue authorities to discover a suitable formula.

A suggestion has been made that income from rent or revenue derived from land which is used for agriculture should no longer be exempt from income-tax, but we consider that this is not a matter that should be dealt with by this Committee.

Clause 2 (2).—We consider that the charging section (section 3 of the Act) should definitely lay down who the persons and associations are who are liable to income-tax and that this information should not have to be extracted from a perusal of the charging section read with this definition. We have amended the Bill accordingly.

Clause 2(3)—[now clause 2(7)].—We have considered various objections raised regarding the nomenclature proposed for the income-tax authorities but consider that the designations proposed are suitable except in the case of "assessor". The use of this word is likely to lead to some confusion and we would replace it by the designation "Income-tax Officer".

Clause 2(8)—Of the Bill containing a definition of 'local authority' we have omitted as unnecessary.

Clause 2(9).—We have inserted a new definition in order to make it clear that the word "person" where used, e.g., in clause 22(2) of the Bill includes a Hindu undivided family.

Clause 2(14) —We have considered at length the objections raised to the proposal contained in the Bill to abolish the distinction between registered and unregistered firms by assessing the profits of all partnerships or firms at the highest rate, the assessor being left in each case to determine from the papers and accounts produced whether a firm or partnership exists or not. We have come to the conclusion that the proposal would create very great hardship and give rise to numerous complaints if income-tax were levied at the maximum rate on the profits of small firms or partnerships and while we recognise the merits of the proposal made under the Bill we think that these are outweighed by the hardship that would be inflicted on the smaller assessees. We have therefore replaced in the Bill the distinction in the present Act between a registered and unregistered firm, income-tax on the registered firm to be levied at the maximum rate and the tax on the unregistered firm to be levied on a graded scale according to the amount of income.

We have however returned to the original definition of a registered firm contained in the Act of 1918, viz., a firm constituted under a registered instrument of partnership specifying the individual shares of the partners. The amended definition of a registered firm which was introduced by section 2 of Act XVII of 1920 as being a firm registered with the Collector in the prescribed manner has not been taken advantage of to any great extent, and while different rules have been made in different provinces prescribing how a firm may be registered, in actual practice the old system has largely been retained of requiring a registered instrument of partnership.

New clause 2 (13).—We have introduced a definition of the expression 'public servant' in order to make it clear that this phrase as used in clause 53 (now clause 54) of the Bill includes all income-tax employés and is not restricted to the particular authorities mentioned in clause 5 (1). For the same reason we have made consequential changes in clause 5, in particular omitting sub-clause (6) of that clause.

Clause 3.—We agree to the proposal contained in the Bill to abolish the adjustment system on the condition, which is provided for in clause 68 of the Bill, that the assessments made in the current year shall be adjusted. This course we consider preferable to the proposal made by one Chamber of Commerce that the assessments of the current year should be adjusted against the income of the year 1917-18 which escaped taxation owing to the introduction of the existing system. This latter course we consider to be impracticable.

There is however one point regarding the change of system which involves a slight alteration in the Bill. We consider that the Act of 1886, while basing the tax on the income of the preceding year, did not introduce a system of assessing and collecting the tax on the income of the preceding year in arrear but introduced a tax on current income providing at the same time, for purposes of convenience, that in the case of income derived from a business or profession the profits of the preceding year were to be taken as the statutory income of the current year. It was for this reason that the Act of 1886 contained a clause providing for the adjustment of an assessment on the previous year's income to an assessment on the current year's income in the case of trades and businesses where owing to the death or insolvency of the assessee, or owing to any other specific cause, the assessee was deprived of, or lost the income on which the assessment was made. The point is however a purely academic one except in the case of businesses which have been taxed under the existing Act. The abolition of the adjustment system means that in the case of those particular businesses tax will have to be paid on the profits of one year more than under the old system. We consider that the case of these businesses should be specially provided for and we have therefore amended clause 26 (now clause 25 of the Bill) by limiting the provisions of sub-clause (1) of that clause to businesses, professions or vocations which will be taxed for the first time under the provisions of the Bill and introducing a new sub-clause (3) providing for an adjustment in the case of businesses, professions or vocations which have been taxed under the present Act in the year in which they close down.

We have considered the suggestion that a distinction should be drawn between business or professional profits and fixed receipts such as salaries and interest on securities by taxing income from the former source on the basis of the income of the preceding year and income from the latter source on the basis of the income of the current year. We are satisfied that very little difficulty is likely to be experienced in connection with the system proposed in the Bill and that considerable confusion would be created if, for income-tax purposes, a part of a man's income was taken to be the current year's income and another part to be the income of another year. We therefore make no change.

Income-tax will already have been deducted in the current year from salaries and interest on securities at the time of payment and while the change of system has the result of making persons drawing income from these sources technically liable in 1922-23 to pay the tax again on the income from these sources in 1921-22, we consider that this can be avoided by the issue of departmental instruction.

Clause 4 (2).—We agree with the criticisms brought against the provisions of this clause that it goes much further than the object aimed at in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, and, in particular, that it makes no distinction between capital and income. We have, therefore, amended the sub-clause in order to restrict its application to the case of business profits or gains which are received or brought into British India within three years of the year in which they arose or accrued in a place outside British India to a person resident in British India when they arose or accrued.

Clause 4 (3).—Some misapprehensions have been aroused by the omission of section 3 (2) (vii) of the present Act, viz., 'legacies'. Lump sum legacies are, however, clearly exempt under clause (vii) of this sub-clause. We have considered the question of whether the Bill makes it perfectly clear that in the case of all trusts there will not be double taxation, that is once in the hands of the trustee and once in the hands of beneficiary. We are satisfied that clauses 40 and 41 of the Bill, which provide for the trustee in particular cases being liable for the tax in place of the beneficiary make it clear that it is only in such cases that a trustee can be required to pay the tax.

We agree with the proposal in the Bill to omit sub-clause (ix) of section 3 (2) of the present Act (viz., 'any perquisite or benefit which is neither money nor reasonably capable of being converted into money'), in order to avoid inequalities in assessments due to the existence of this provision in the present Act. We consider, however, that departmental instructions should be issued that in the case of rent-free houses the annual value of such houses to the occupier should in no case be deemed to be more than 10 per cent. of the salary in the case of salaried persons.

Clause 5.—We agree with the views of the All-India Committee that, since the making of rules under the Act, the interpretation of such rules, and the general administration of the Act will be in the hands of the Government of India, it is necessary that the Government of India should establish an authority for the purpose of discharging these functions. Clause 64 of the original Bill, however, merely provided that the Governor General in Council might delegate all or any of his powers under the Bill to such authority as he might specify in a notification, and we consider that the constitution of the authority to exercise these powers should be definitely provided for in the Bill which should also specify the particular powers that are to be vested in that authority. We have considered various proposals regarding the name to be given to this authority, and have come to the conclusion that the most suitable name is the Board of Inland Revenue. This, however, does not mean that the authority must consist of more persons than one and we have therefore provided that the Board shall consist of one or more persons appointed by the Governor General in Council, while throughout the Bill we have distinguished in various clauses between the powers that we consider should be reserved by the Governor General in Council and those that should be vested by statute in the Board of Inland Revenue.

A complete whole-time staff for income-tax work has not yet been appointed in many of the provinces and it is necessary to provide, until such whole-time staff is engaged, for the continuance of the existing system under which various officers exercise the powers of an assessing authority in respect of particular classes of income and of an appellate authority in respect of others. This we have provided for in sub-clause (4) of this clause.

As regards the control of Local Governments, we agree to the proposals contained in a draft letter under which the appointment of Assistant Commissioners and Income-tax Officers will be subject to the approval of the Local Governments, and any such officers dismissed by the Income-tax Commissioner will have a right of appeal to the Local Government.

Clause 8.—We have inserted a proviso in order to cover the peculiar case of securities issued by a local Government Income-tax free. The income-tax on such securities is payable by the local Government itself.

We recommend that executive instructions should be issued that where an assessee with an income from securities has obtained a loan from a bank for purchasing those securities, he may on obtaining a banker's certificate as to the amount of the interest on his loan set off the interest that he pays against the interest that he earns from the securities.

Clause 9.—In order to remove misapprehensions caused by the insertion of the words "or lands" in this clause, we have restricted the meaning of these words to lands attached to buildings. The income derived from vacant lands let out in urban areas for the purpose of storing materials, etc., will under the provisions of the Bill be liable to tax under clause 12.

We have inserted a proviso to sub-clause (1) to secure that the aggregate of the allowances made under that sub-clause shall in no case exceed the annual value. This is necessary owing to the new provision in clause 24 allowing a set off of loss under one head against profits under another.

In the proviso to sub-clause (2) we have replaced the word "aggregate" by the word "total" in order to make it clear that it is only the income of the recipient liable to taxation under the Bill that is to be taken into account and not his income from non-taxable sources.

We agree that no deduction on account of municipal or local taxes should be allowed in this clause. We are unable to accept the suggestion that the maxima to be allowed under sub-clause (vi) and the allowance for vacancies under sub-clause (vii) should be prescribed in the Bill.

Clause 10.—We are opposed to the proposal that losses in business should be carried forward and set against profits of succeeding years.

We agree with the All-India Income-tax Committee that it is not advisable to insert any provision in the Bill allowing bad debts as a business deduction, since 'bad debts' occur only where the mercantile system of accounting is adopted. Departmental instructions should, however, be issued to provide for an allowance being given for bad debts when they are consistent with the system of accounts adopted by the assessee.

We are unable to accept the proposal that amounts transferred to a reserve intended for the purposes of internal insurance should be allowed as a business expense.

We do not consider it advisable to insert any provision in the Bill allowing as a business deduction insurance against the loss of profit. Departmental instructions should, however, be issued that where the owner of a business asks for any such allowance, it should be given on the assessee agreeing to pay income-tax on the amount recovered from the insurance company. Similar instructions should be issued regarding insurance against loss of rent under clause 9.

We are opposed to the proposal that the rates of depreciation fixed under this clause should vary in different parts of India according to local conditions.

In sub-clauses (2) (v) and 2 (vi) we have inserted the word 'furniture,' as we consider that the repair and depreciation of furniture are a legitimate business expense. As regards depreciation, however, departmental instructions should be issued that the depreciation allowance should be granted only in cases in which it is asked for, in which case the cost of replacement should not be allowed, and that where this depreciation allowance is not asked for, the cost of replacement should be allowed.

In sub-clauses (2) (vi) (c) and (2) (vii) we have made provision for the depreciation allowances granted under the Act of 1886.

We are unable to agree to the proposal that depreciation allowances should be further extended so as to provide for the amortisation of capital sums paid on account of the purchase, for example, of the lease of a mine or for the depreciation of wasting assets, such as coal. We consider, however, that depreciation might be allowed for sinking shafts, tramways, and sidings, but no specific provision is required in the Bill as it appears to be covered by the word 'plant'.

We have further amended the provisions of sub-clause (2) (vii) in order to make it clear that the allowance to be granted under this sub-clause is a pure obsolescence allowance and is not to be granted where machinery or plant is sold for reasons other than obsolescence.

We are unable to accept the suggestion that taxes paid to municipal or other local authorities, other than the taxes levied in respect of the premises used for the purposes of the business, should be allowed as a business expense.

We do not consider it advisable to make any specific provision regarding the deductions to be allowed on account of the contributions of employers to private provident funds of companies and firms. We consider, however, that the practice should be that such contributions should be allowed in cases where the funds are irrevocable trusts and where the employers' contributions cannot under any circumstances be recovered by the employers.

Clause 13.—Questions have been propounded in connection with this clause as to what the 'method of accounting regularly employed by the assessee' will be considered to be in cases where the various branches of a business are only closed down once in three or five years or where it is the custom amongst certain merchants to prepare their accounts on the basis of the mercantile accountancy system in respect of transactions between themselves and members of their own community and on the basis of cash payments in the case of transactions between themselves and their customers. It is impossible to provide in the Bill for all the different classes of cases. As regards the two particular cases quoted, we are of opinion that, on the facts as stated to us, in the former case a business might be assessed either on the average profits of the branches as disclosed from the accounts last filed or on the actual profits brought to account owing to particular branches closing down in particular years, and that in the latter case the accounts system might be considered to be "the method regularly employed," provided that the same system is continuously employed.

We have considered the proposals for the insertion of a definite provision in this clause that where an assessee changes his system of accounting, the Income-tax Officer should have power to secure that no profits escape taxation on account of the change, and that it should be definitely laid down that the assessee may change his system of accounting with the permission of the Income-tax Officer subject to such conditions as the Income-tax Officer may prescribe, in which latter case an appeal should be allowed against his order to the Assistant Commissioner. We consider that both these suggestions are fully covered by the proviso to this clause which enables the Income-tax Officer to reject the new system in the year of change if in his opinion the income, profits and gains to be taxed in the year of change cannot be correctly deduced therefrom and that clause 30 clearly provides for the decision of the Income-tax Officer being contested in an appeal against the assessment itself.

Clause 14.—We have amended this clause in order to make it clear that the income which an individual member of a Hindu undivided family derives from the undivided family shall not be taken into account in the assessment of that individual to super-tax. We have also restored the provisions of the present Act which prescribe that an individual is not liable to pay tax on income that he derives from a company or firm only in cases where the profits of the company or firm have themselves been assessed to income-tax. This is necessary in order to provide for cases where dividends are drawn from a non-Indian company.

We have further amended the provisions of sub-clause (c) [now sub-clause (2) (b)] of clause 14 in order to make it clear that where a partnership deed provides that the partners may not remove more than a certain proportion of the profits in any year, or that a certain proportion of the profits must be distributed in charity, the amount to be taken into consideration in fixing the total income of a partner both for purposes of super-tax and for the purpose of determining the rate at which he is to be assessed on his other income shall be his proportionate share of the whole of the assessable profits of the firm.

Clause 15.—We have amended this clause for the purpose of securing that in the case of a Hindu undivided family the premia paid for insurance on the life of other members than the head of the family shall be allowed.

Clause 17.—We have omitted clause 17 of the original Bill which provided that income-tax is to be charged at the maximum rate in the case of companies and firms, as we consider that this provision can more suitably be inserted in the Finance Act. We have received various suggestions for an alteration of the system of graduation of income-tax, but this again is a question which we consider should be brought up in connection with the Finance Bill and not with this Bill.

Clause 19 (now clause 18).—We have amended sub-clause (2) in order to provide that deductions from salary shall approximate as closely as possible to the appropriate rate; the provision in the present Act and the original Bill that where a sum received is a non-recurring item it should be taxed at the rate appropriate to that particular sum as if it were the whole of the assessee's income having given rise to a considerable amount of unnecessary trouble to assessees. We have also altered the proviso to this sub-clause in order to make it clear that excess collections in previous deductions may be corrected in subsequent deductions.

As regards sub-clause (3) we have considered the complaints that have been made about the hardship involved to assessees having an income derived from securities owing to the interest on such securities being taxed at the maximum rate at the source. Many of the difficulties in connection with refunds will be removed by the provisions in the Bill requiring a certificate to be given by the person deducting income-tax from interest on securities that income-tax has been deducted, and the proposal that the rules regarding refunds should provide that an assessee may get a refund in the district in which he is assessed or in the district in which he resides and should not be required to obtain a refund in the district in which the tax was originally deducted, and that the certificate should be taken as conclusive evidence of the payment of the tax. We think, however, that in addition to this departmental instructions should be issued that in cases where the Income-tax Officer is satisfied that a person has no income other than income from Government securities, he may issue a certificate authorising the deduction to be made at the rate appropriate to such person's total income from those securities, and in cases where the Income-tax Officer is satisfied that the holder of Government securities has no taxable income, a certificate might be issued to that effect, so that the officer paying the interest on the securities should deduct no tax at the source. Such certificates, we consider, should remain in force until they are cancelled, and should not be required to be renewed annually.

We have considered the suggestion that in sub-clause (7) a provision should be inserted making it clear that an employer who has accidentally not deducted the full amount of tax from an employé's salary has a right to recover from the employé any amount that he has to pay on account of such short deduction. No such provision appears to be necessary, as every person who pays money on account of another has a right of recovery.

We have discussed at length the arguments for and against the provisions in the Bill making it obligatory on all employers to deduct income-tax from their employés' salary under this sub-clause and to make a return under clause 22 (now clause 21) of their employés and their salaries, and have agreed by a majority that the clauses as drafted should be retained.

Clause 20 (now clause 19).—We have amended this clause in order to provide for income-tax being paid direct by the assessee in cases where the employer or the person paying the interest on securities does not reside in British India and in cases where owing to the assessee's salary being less than Rs. 2,000 income-tax has not been deducted.

Clause 21 (now clause 20.—We have omitted the provision requiring the principal officer to state in the certificate to be issued under this clause the amount of the tax paid or to be paid and the rate at which it has been or is to be paid, since in numerous cases it will be impossible to say what rate of tax has been or will be levied on the profits out of which the dividends are paid. We consider that it should be assumed in connection with such certificates that the tax has been levied at the rate current on the date on which the dividends were declared, and this we have provided for by an amendment of clause 47 (1) [now clause 48 (1)] of the Bill.

Clause 22 (now clause 21).—We consider that the period of 15 days prescribed in this clause is too short and would extend it to 30 days.

Difficulties have been experienced in connection with the provision that the principal officer of a company must furnish a return even in cases where a company conducts business at different centres and where a return is required by the local Income-tax Officer. We have amended the clause in order to provide for persons other than the principal officer being required to make a return to suit the convenience of the company.

Clause 23 (now clause 22).—The suggestions that the form to be prescribed should enable an assessee to show a loss if a loss has been incurred, and that the declaration to be signed by the assessee should be altered to conform with the new phraseology in the Bill [viz., "income, profits and gains of every kind and from every source to which the Act applies"] have our approval, and are recommended for adoption in framing the form under the rule-making power. We have provided that the period under sub-clause (2) shall not be less than thirty days.

We have inserted a new sub-clause (3) providing that where a person has not furnished a return in due time or having furnished a return discovers any omission or wrong statement therein, he may furnish a return or revised return before the assessment is made, so that where such a return or revised return has been made, the assessee may not be prosecuted for failing to submit the original return and may not be penalised for making a wrong statement in the original return.

We have also inserted a proviso to sub-clause (3) [now sub-clause (4)] preventing the Income-tax Officer from calling upon an assessee to produce books of account going back for a period of more than three years prior to the accounting period. We agree, however, that no such limitation can be placed upon the power to call for documents.

Clause 24 (now clause 23).—We do not accept the suggestion made that a copy of the order of assessment under this clause must in all cases be given to the assessee. We agree with the All-India Income-tax Committee that it is sufficient that departmental instructions should be issued that any assessee who desires may have a copy of the order free of charge.

Clause 25 (now clause 24).—We have inserted at the end the words 'in that year' for the purpose of clearness.

We have inserted a new sub-clause (2) in order to allow partners in a registered firm to set off their share of the loss incurred by the firm against their income from other sources.

Clause 26 (now clause 25).—The more important changes in this clause have already been explained under clause 3. We have further amended sub-clause (1) in order to make it clear that the income to be taxed is the income accruing between the end of the last year of which the profits have been taxed and the date of discontinuance of the business.

We have retained the provisions of sub-clause (2) with the modification that a person should be required not to give a notice before he discontinues but to give notice within fifteen days after the discontinuance. We have also replaced the words 'not exceeding' by the words 'equivalent to', as we consider that a maximum and not a fixed penalty should be provided for.

Doubts have been expressed as to whether it is clear that the rate to be applied in taxing a discontinued business under sub-clause (1) is the rate in force in the year in which the assessment is made We consider that this is sufficiently clear in the clause as drafted.

Clause 27 (now clause 26).—We have made some drafting changes in this clause, and we consider that the clause as now drafted meets the doubts expressed as to whether it covers the case of a company succeeding another company, since the word 'person' under the definition in the General Clauses Act includes a company.

Clause 29 (now clause 27).—We have altered the words "may cancel" to the words "shall cancel," as we consider it should be obligatory on the Income-tax Officer to make a fresh assessment under such circumstances.

Clause 30.—We have replaced the phraseology "petition against assessment" by the word "appeal" as being more suitable. We have added to the particular orders against which an appeal may lie by including orders imposing a penalty under clause 24

(now clause 25) clause 33 (now clause 28) and against orders of an Income-tax Officer refusing to re-open a case under clause 29 (now clause 27).

In sub-clause (3) we have omitted the provision making it obligatory for a copy of the order in all cases to be filed with the appeal.

Clause 31.—We have amended this clause in order to make it clear that the Assistant Commissioner has power to remand a case to the Assessor for report or disposal on its merits and that the appellate authority is not required to pass orders on the actual date of hearing. We have also added a proviso that an Assistant Commissioner may not pass an order of enhancement unless the appellant has had an opportunity of showing cause against such enhancement.

New clause 32.—In this new clause we have provided for an appeal lying to the Commissioner against the order of an Assistant Commissioner imposing a penalty for concealment of income under clause 28 or against an order enhancing an assessment in the course of an appeal under clause 31.

Clause 32 (now clause 33).—We have amended this clause in order to give the Commissioner the power of review over any proceedings taken by subordinate officers under the Bill. We do not consider that his power should be limited as at present to assessment proceedings. We have also made amendments to make it clear that the Commissioner need not necessarily in each case make a personal enquiry, but may cause an enquiry to be made by a subordinate officer.

A majority of us are not in favour of the proposal that the Commissioner in exercising his power of review should be assisted by two non-official Assessors.

Clause 33 (now clause 28).—We have amended the clause in order to provide that the Commissioner shall have these powers. We have substituted the words "not exceeding" for the words "equal to" as we consider that the penalty to be prescribed should be a maximum and not a fixed one.

Clause 34.—The majority of us are of opinion that the period of three years prescribed in this clause should be reduced to one year, the same reduction being made in the period prescribed in clauses 35 and 49 (now clause 50).

We have made further drafting changes in the Bill in order to make it clear that the provisions of this clause read with clause 68 enable the Income-tax authorities in the year 1922-23 to make an adjustment in the case of persons who were not assessed in the year 1921-22 or were declared provisionally not liable.

We have added a proviso so that there may be no doubt that the rate applicable to assessments or re-assessments made under this clause shall be the rate in force at the time when the income should have been assessed.

Clause 37.—We have amended the clause in order that the Commissioner may have these powers.

Clause 38.—We have amended sub-clause (1) in order to enable the income-tax authorities to require the members of a Hindu undivided family to give the name of the manager. We have omitted sub-clause (3) as unnecessary since the income-tax authorities have ample powers to disallow any payments shown in the accounts of an assessee where proof of the payment is not made.

Clause 39.—This clause is amended in order to provide that register of bond-holders and mortgage registers shall be open to inspection as well as the register of shareholders.

The question has been raised as to whether an income-tax authority inspecting registers under this clause can be required to pay a fee under the provisions of the Companies' Act. We are advised that as the provisions of this clause confer specific powers on income-tax authorities they cannot be called upon to pay a fee under the Companies' Act.

Clause 42.—We agree with the All-India Income-tax Committee that it is not possible to make any suitable definition of the phrases "business connection" or "agent", but a special effort should be made to make the working of this clause uniform throughout India and to define the policy to be followed either by rules or executive instructions.

We omit from sub-clause (i) of this clause the words 'or from the interest on any securities of the kind mentioned in section 8', and also the words 'or where there are more agents than one, in the name of such agent as the Commissioner shall determine'. We think that these provisions would give rise to more inconvenience than on the facts before us would be justified by the possible increase in receipts.

Clause 43.—We have inserted the words "or from whom such non-resident is in receipt of any income" in order to remove doubts that have arisen in particular cases of whether a business connection exists or not. We are not prepared to accept the proposal that the words "having any business connection with such person" should be amended in order to make it possible to treat as an agent a person who had a business connection with the non-resident at a period prior to the service of the notice.

New clause 44.—We have inserted this clause in order to make it clear that where a business or profession or vocation carried on by a firm is entirely discontinued the persons who are the members of the firm on the date of such discontinuance shall be liable to any tax due from the firm.

Clause 44 (now clause 45).—We have substituted the words "following the date of the service of the notice or order" for the words "following the date of the notice or order."

Clause 48 (now clause 49).—This clause makes provision for relief in respect of double income-tax where income-tax is levied by the income-tax authorities of the United Kingdom and of India upon the same income. We recommend that the Government of India should take up the question of making suitable arrangements with the Indian States and with the Straits Settlements for relief from double income-tax.

Clause 49 (now clause 50).—As the words "the year to which the claim relates" are vague, we have replaced them by the words "the year in which the tax was recovered."

Clause 53 (now clause 54).—We have amplified sub-clause (1) in order to make proceedings for the recovery, as well as the assessment, of the tax confidential. We have added a proviso (c) to sub-clause (2) in order to extend the protection given by the proviso to any action of a public servant in pursuance of the provisions of the Bill or the rules made thereunder, such as the service of a notice by affixture.

Clause 54 (now clause 55).—We have considered the objections raised to the provisions of the present Act and the Bill relating to the super-tax on companies which result in portions of the profits of holding companies being taxed more than once. We are of opinion that the provisions of the Bill and the present Act should be retained but that if the rate of this tax is to be enhanced in future the Government of India should consider whether the whole basis of the method of assessment does not require revision.

Clause 56 (now clause 57).—As sub-clause (1) seems to go further than the intention expressed in the Statement of Objects and Reasons, we have added the words "in respect of such share" in order to make it clear that the resident partner is only liable for super-tax on the share as if it were the whole income of the non-resident.

We have amplified sub-clause (2) in order to make it clear that the principal officer has power to deduct the amount of the super-tax from the amount payable by the company to the assessee. We have also restricted the application of sub-clause (2) to cases where the principal officer is aware that the shareholder is non-resident. We are not prepared to accept the suggestion that sub-clause (2) should be amplified in order to provide for deduction at the source of super-tax on any sum which a non-resident may receive from a company by way of interest on debentures or remuneration such as Directors' fees.

Clause 58 (now clause 59).—We consider that the rules to be framed under the Bill should be made "after previous publication". We agree that this should not apply to the first set of rules made under the Bill but such set of rules should be shown for criticism to the members of this Committee before they are published.

Clause 59 (now clause 60).—We have considered the question raised in the letters of certain Chambers of Commerce regarding the equity of the levy of super-tax on the profits of feeder railway companies, but we consider that this is not a matter that can be dealt with in connection with this Bill.

Clause 61 (now clause 62).—We have amended this clause by omitting the reference to the Collector and the Assessor as collections are not in all (or even in many) cases made by these particular officers.

Clause 62 (now clause 63).—We have added a sub-clause (2) in order to make it clear upon whom a notice or requisition may be served in the case of firms and Hindu undivided families.

Clause 63 (now clause 64).—The amendments in sub-clauses (1) and (2) are for the purposes of making it clear that these clauses merely prescribe the particular Income-tax Officers who are to make the assessments and do not prescribe the locality in which assessments must be made. We have added the proviso to sub-clause (3) in order to secure that an assessee shall have had an opportunity of expressing his view before a decision is arrived at in cases of dispute.

Clause 66.—We have omitted sub-clause (7) of the original Bill which defines the meaning of the words "a question of the law" as being unduly restrictive. We have added a proviso to sub-clause (2) in order to enable an applicant to withdraw his application for reference to a High Court in cases where the Commissioner is himself prepared to give a ruling in his favour on the point of law raised.

In sub-clause (6) [now sub-clause (7)] we have omitted the words "if any". We have further made provision in new sub-clause (3) that an assessee shall have power to apply to a High Court for a mandamus requiring the Commissioner to state a case in cases where the Commissioner declines to state a case.

Clause 68.—We have amended the second proviso in order to make it clear that the latter portion merely means that the procedure to be adopted in connection with an adjustment is the same as the procedure prescribed by the Bill for an assessment and that it does not mean that the rate to be charged in connection with the adjustment is the same as the rate of income-tax prescribed for the year in which the adjustment is made.

2. We have made certain other drafting amendments in the Bill which do not call for detailed notice.

Burma.—The week was rainless. Reaping of winter rice has been nearly completed. Threshing and winnowing are proceeding. Sowing of miscellaneous crops continues. Standing crops are good. Cattle are generally healthy. The price of unhusked rice was Rs. 160 to Rs. 167 and that of white rice (specials) Rs. 430 to Rs. 445 per hundred baskets.

Assam.—The weather is seasonable. Harvesting of winter rice is nearly finished and that of matikalai is in progress. Plucking of cotton and transplanting of spring rice continue. Ploughing of autumn rice and jute and preparation for jhuming are going on. The outturn of the transplanted winter rice is good and that of cotton is below normal. Cattle disease is reported in two districts. The price of common rice is practically unchanged.

Bihar and Orissa.—Light but useful showers fell in most districts. Pressing of sugarcane continues. Threshing of winter paddy is in progress. Standing spring crops are generally doing well. The price of common rice has risen in three districts, fallen in three and remained stationary in the remainder. The average price of local common rice at headquarters (excluding Angul) was 7·57 seers a rupee against 7·54 seers in the preceding week and that of maize was 10·23 seers against 10·26 seers in the preceding week. Cattle disease is reported from twelve districts. The condition of standing crops in the Feudatory States of Orissa and Chota Nagpur is good.

United Provinces.—Light to moderate rain again fell in most districts and has benefitted the spring crops. Some damage by hail is reported from parts of the Lucknow, Unao and Fatehpur districts. Preparation of land for sugarcane and extra crops, irrigation of spring crops and poppy and pressing of sugarcane continue. Standing crops are doing well. Prospects are favourable. The condition of agricultural stock is satisfactory but cattle disease still exists in some districts. Fodder, water and market supplies are sufficient. Prices continue to be high.

Punjab.—Light rain fell in most districts. More rain is badly wanted everywhere. Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of toria continue. The yield is generally normal. Wheat and other standing spring crops are generally good on irrigated and average on unirrigated areas. Cattle are healthy. Water and green fodder are sufficient. Stocks of foodgrains are generally insufficient. Prices have fallen slightly in some districts and are stationary in others. They are generally above scarcity rates. Prices of wheat :—Lahore 3¾, Ambala, Ferozepore and Rawalpindi 4 and Lyallpur 4⅛ seers per rupee.

North-West Frontier Province.—Light showers fell in one district. Pressing of sugarcane is in progress. The outturn is good. The condition of standing corps is generally good. Fodder and water are generally sufficient. Prices of foodgrains continue to be dangerously high. Wheat is selling in Peshawar and in Dera Ismail Khan at 4 seers per rupee.

Jammu.—Slight rain fell during the week. Fodder is sufficient. Prices are stationary.

Kashmir.—The week was generally cloudy. No cattle disease is reported. Prices are stationary.

Baluchistan.—(Report for the week ending 7th January 1922.)—No rain fell during the week. Prospects of spring crops continue satisfactory. Wheat is still being sown in the Khashkaba tracts. The economic conditions remain unaltered. Prices have slightly risen in Quetta, fallen in Fortsandeman and remained stationary elsewhere. Australian wheat, believed to be inferior, is however selling at Rs. 10 a maund. 160 persons were employed on relief works in the Chagai district. Relief works remained closed elsewhere owing to rain. Atta is still being issued from the cheap atta shop in Chaman. The condition of live stock is good. Fodder is sufficient except in Chaman and Pishin.

Rajputana.—The weather is cloudy and cold. Light showers are reported from the Bharatpur, Karauli and Jhalawar States. The maximum fall was 163 cents in Chhaoni-Jhalawar. Spring crops have been irrigated and are in good condition. The cotton crop is somewhat damaged by frost in Partabghar and the Pirawa district in the Tonk State. Agricultural stock is good except in parts of Kotah where cattle disease prevails. Fodder is sufficient. Water is insufficient in Jhalawar and in parts of Kotah. Prices are generally stationary except in Kotah where they are tending to rise.

Central India.—The rainfall was general in Indore, Bhopal, Bundelkhand, Baghelkhand and the Southern States and partial in Malwa. Harvesting of autumn crops continues in Indore, Bhopal, Malwa, parts of Baghelkhand and in the Southern States. Spring crops are being irrigated in parts of Malwa and the Southern States. Picking of cotton is in progress in Indore, Malwa and Dhar. The condition of standing crops is fair to good. The probable outturn is fair to good. The condition of agricultural stock is fair to good except for cattle disease in Kurwai, Chhattarpur, Barwani and in parts of Rewa. Prices are high. The condition of opium is fair in Indore and good in Malwa.

Gwalior.—The winter rains benefitted the spring crops in the southern districts. Their condition is good. Winnowing and threshing of autumn crops have been completed. Pressing of sugarcane is in progress. Cattle disease still prevails. Prices of juar and bajra have slightly dropped and that of other foodgrains continue high. Weeding of opium and picking of cotton continue.

Central Provinces.—Light to moderate showers nowhere exceeding 2 inches fell in all but the Seoni, Wardha, Nagpur, Bhandara, Balaghat, Raipur and Bilaspur districts. Hail damaged the crops slightly in parts of Mandla, Bhandara and Buldana. Picking of cotton and threshing and winnowing of autumn crops still continue in several districts. Recent rain has greatly benefitted the spring crops and prospects, at present, are fair to good. Cattle are in good condition, although cattle disease prevails in places. Fodder and water are sufficient. Prices remained steady or varied slightly with a distinct downward tendency.

Feudatory States:—Three States received slight showers. Spring crops are doing well.

Bombay.—Rain fell during the week in parts of the Deccan. Standing crops are thriving except in parts of Larkana and Palanpur where they are damaged slightly by frost and in some parts of the Deccan where they are withering for want of sufficient moisture. Harvesting of autumn crops is nearing completion. Threshing continues. Picking of cotton is progressing in Thar and Parkar, West Khandesh, Ahmednagar and Baroda. The fodder supply is generally sufficient. Water for drinking and irrigation is adequate. Cattle are good. Prices show a tendency to fall.

Hyderabad.—During the week heavy showers fell in some talukas of the Aurangabad, Bir, Parbhani, Nander and the Usmanabad districts and light elsewhere. The autumn cotton is still being picked in parts. The week's rain facilitated late rice sowings. The condition of spring crops, wheat, juar, gram, linseed and castor is generally fair to good except in parts where the crops have suffered somewhat by the week's rain. The water and fodder supply is adequate. Employment is available. Prospects, on the whole, are fair. Cattle disease is reported from parts of the Nizamabad district. Prices of food grains continue stationary. Juar is selling at 3½ seers per rupee in the Mahbubnagar district.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL RETURNS SHOWING THE MORTALITY FROM WILD ANIMALS AND VENOMOUS SNAKES DURING 1920.

RESOLUTION.

The annual returns showing the mortality from wild animals and venomous snakes during 1920 have been received from local Governments and Administrations.

The total number of persons killed by wild animals increased by 26·6 per cent. from 2,637 in 1919 to 3,339 in 1920. Tigers were responsible for 1,507 deaths, leopards for 550, wolves for 522, bears for 118, elephants for 77, and hyenas for 27. Of the 538 deaths from "other animals", 181 are assigned to wild bears and 204 to crocodiles or alligators. The Madras Presidency heads the list with 783 deaths, with Bihar and Orissa a close second with 781. There has been an abnormal increase of 215 deaths in the Madras Presidency over last year's figures, the chief increases being in the districts of Ganjam, Vizagapatam, Godavari and Kurnool, while the district of Cuddapah has shown a decided decrease. Deaths from elephants were highest in Bengal, from tigers and leopards in Madras, from bears in Bihar and Orissa, and from wolves in the United Provinces.

2. The mortality from snake-bite among human beings decreased from 20,273 in 1919 to 20,043 in 1920. Decreases occurred mainly in Madras, the United Provinces, Burma and the Central Provinces but Bengal, Bombay and Bihar and Orissa reported increases, and the number of deaths still continued to be large in all these provinces. Bihar and Orissa recorded the highest mortality from snake-bite, viz., 5,460 in 1920 against 5,369 in 1919.

3. During the year 1920, the total number of wild animals destroyed was 23,255 among which were 1,719 tigers, 5,616 leopards, 2,840 bears, and 2,667 wolves. The total amount of rewards paid was Rs. 1,89,205 during the year as against Rs. 1,72,246 in the previous year. The number of snakes destroyed increased from 58,416 in 1919 to 61,373, but the rewards paid for their destruction decreased from Rs. 1,670 to Rs. 763.

4. Under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, and the Indian Arms Rules as amended in 1920, 86,252 licences were issued in Forms XIII, XIV, XV in 1920 as against 33,604 in the corresponding forms in the preceding year. The total number of licences in force was 2,45,642 as compared with 1,93,233 in the previous year.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of the resolution (and annexure) be forwarded to local Governments and Administrations* and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India for general information, also that a copy be forwarded to the Director of Statistics.

In making these appointments he will act with the advice of a Selection Committee, including at least one eminent representative of the Engineering profession.

In 1922 it is intended that 11 appointments shall be made.

An Indian candidate must have attained the age of 21 and not attained the age of 24 years† on the first day of July of the year in which he offers himself for appointment, except that in the case of an Indian who has rendered service of the nature defined in Regulation 4, the same maximum age limit as for Europeans will apply.

[N.B.—*Indians must obtain a certificate of age and nationality in the form explained in Appendix II. As the production of this certificate is a necessary condition of appointment, intending candidates are advised to procure it without delay. *6. Indians who, save as hereinafter provided, are British subjects and are not qualified under Regulation 5, are eligible for appointment and shall be selected to the extent of 10 per cent. of the total number of Assistant Executive Engineers thus recruited, if otherwise duly qualified.

Provided that a ruler or subject of any State in India in respect of whom the Governor-General in Council has made a declaration under section 96-A of the Government of India Act, 1915, as amended by section 3 of the Government of India (Amendment) Act, 1916, may be considered eligible.

7. Indian candidates must produce evidence that they have either (1) obtained one of the University degrees mentioned in Appendix I; or (2) passed Sections A. and B. of the A.M.I.C.E. examination; or (3) obtained such other diploma or distinction in Engineering as the Secretary of State may decide to accept in any particular case. It is preferred that candidates should have taken a college course and obtained one of the degrees mentioned in Appendix I. They should in addition have had at least one full year's practical experience of Civil Engineering under a qualified civil engineer at the time when they appear before the Selection Committee. Those whose qualifying diploma has been obtained without a college course should have had a full three years of such practical experience.

8. European applicants eligible under Rule 4 who can produce evidence of the above qualifications will be admitted as candidates; others not holding one of the recognised degrees or diplomas must produce evidence—

An applicant who has served or is serving at the time of his application in His Majesty's Forces, must produce, if possible, a report by his Commanding Officer on his character, administrative capacity and powers of organisation, and aptitude, natural bent, and Engineering experience.

9. Selected candidates will be required to undergo further training on works in India for a period of at least one year. During this period they will be on probation and their final appointment will be made dependent upon the result of such probation.

10. Candidates must be prepared, if called upon, to attend at the India Office, at their own expense, for a personal interview with the Selection Committee.

11. Candidates will further be required, before final appointment by the Secretary of State in Council, to appear, at their own expense, before the Medical Board at the India Office for examination as to their physical fitness for service in India.

The Regulations governing the physical examination of candidates for the Public Works and State Railway Departments of the Government of India are given in Appendix III.

*12. Selected candidates will also be required to satisfy the Secretary of State of their ability to ride.

13. They will on appointment be provided with a free first-class passage to India and they will be expected to proceed thither about the end of September or later in the year in which they are appointed.

APPENDIX III.

REGULATIONS AS TO THE PHYSICAL EXAMINATION OF CANDIDATES FOR APPOINTMENT TO THE PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT OF THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Note.—These Regulations are published for the convenience of candidates and in order to enable them to ascertain the probability of their coming up to the required physical standard. But it must be clearly understood that the Secretary of State reserves to himself an absolute discretion to reject as unfit any candidate whom he may consider, after hearing the opinion of his medical advisers, to be physically disqualified for the public service; and that his discretion is in no respect limited by these Regulations.

It is not the practice to communicate to candidates who may be reported as physically unfit for service in India the reasons for the Medical Board's opinion.

General Physical Requirements.

1. A candidate must be in good mental and bodily health, and free from any physical defect likely to interfere with efficient performance of duty.

2. In the examination of candidates the Medical Board will apply the following table of correlation of age, height, and chest girth :—

Age.	Height without Shoes.	Chest.
		Girth when expanded.	Range of Expansion.
	Inches.	Inches.	Inches.
21 and upwards .	62½ and under 65 . .	35	2
	65 „ 68 . . .	35½	2
	68 „ 70 . . .	36	2
	70 „ 72 . . .	36½	2½
	72 and upwards . . .	37	2½

3. Measurement of Height.—The candidate will be placed against the standard with his feet together, and the weight thrown on the heels, and not on the toes or outside of the feet. He will stand erect without rigidity, and with the heels, calves, buttocks, and shoulders touching the standard; the chin will be depressed to bring the vertex of the head level under the horizontal bar, and the height will be noted in parts of an inch to eighths,

4. Measurement of Chest.—The candidate will be made to stand erect with his feet together, and to raise his hands above his head. The tape will be carefully adjusted round the chest, with its posterior upper edge touching the inferior angles of the shoulder blades, and its anterior lower edge the upper part of the nipples. The arms will then be lowered to hang loosely by the side, and care will be taken that the shoulders are not thrown upwards or backwards so as to displace the tape. The candidate will then be directed to empty his chest of air as much as is possible. This is best done by continuous whistling with the lips as long as sound can be produced. The tape is carefully gathered in during the process, and when the minimum measurement is reached it is recorded. The candidate will then be directed to inflate his chest to its utmost capacity. This maximum measurement will likewise be noted. The girth with the chest fully expanded and the range of expansion between the minimum and the maximum will then be recorded.

5. The hearing must be good.

6. The speech without impediment.

7. The teeth in good order, i.e., decayed or broken teeth must be properly stopped or crowned, and deficient teeth replaced by artificial teeth where necessary for effective mastication.

8. The chest must be well formed, the lungs and heart sound.

9. Rupture, hydrocele, varicocele, varicose veins in a severe degree, or other condition likely to cause inefficiency will disqualify a candidate, unless such condition is cured by operation.

10. The limbs, feet, and toes must be well formed and developed, with free and perfect motion of all the joints.

11. A candidate must have no congenital malformation or defect likely to interfere with efficiency.

12. A candidate must not be the subject of chronic skin disease.

13. Evidence of previous acute or chronic disease pointing to an impaired constitution will disqualify.

Candidates may, if they wish it, undergo a preliminary examination by the Medical Board, which meets at the India Office every Tuesday, under the following conditions:—

(a) Applications must be addressed to the Under Secretary of State, India Office, Whitehall, London, accompanied by a fee of two guineas, and a statement as to the particular appointment which the candidate desires to obtain.

(b) Candidates must pay their travelling expenses.

(c) Candidates considered to be unfit by the Medical Board at this preliminary examination are not bound to accept its opinion, but may, at their own risk, continue their studies, with the knowledge that they will have to submit themselves for a final medical examination by the Medical Board, prior to the examination, or to their appointment.

(d) On the other hand, it must be distinctly understood that the preliminary examination by the Medical Board is held solely for the candidate's information, and that, if after that examination he is reported to be apparently fit, he has not on that account any claim to be accepted as physically fit when he presents himself for the final Medical Examination, upon which alone his acceptance or rejection will depend. Candidates may be considered fit for the Service at the preliminary examination, but may be found at the final examination to be unfit, either on account of some physical defect which did not exist or passed undetected at the preliminary examination, or for other reasons.

REGULATIONS AS TO THE STANDARD OF VISION.

1. If myopia in one or both eyes exists, a candidate may be passed provided the ametropia does not exceed 3·5 D, and if, with correcting glasses not exceeding 3·5 D, the acuteness of vision in one eye equals $\frac{6}{9}$ and in the other $\frac{6}{6}$, there being normal range of accommodation with the glasses.

2. Myopic astigmatism does not disqualify a candidate provided the lens, or the combined spherical and cylindrical lenses, required to correct the error of refraction, does not exceed 3·5 D; the acuteness of vision in one eye, when corrected, being equal to $\frac{6}{9}$, and in the other $\frac{6}{6}$, together with normal range of accommodation with the correcting glasses, there being no evidence of progressive disease in the choroid or retina.

3 A candidate having total hypermetropia not exceeding 4 D is not disqualified, provided the sight in one eye (when under the influence of atropine) equals $\frac{6}{9}$, and in the other eye equals $\frac{6}{6}$, with + 4 D glasses, or any lower power.

4. Hypermetropic astigmatism does not disqualify, provided the lens or combined lenses required to cover the error of refraction do not exceed 4 D and that the sight of one eye equals $\frac{6}{9}$, and the other $\frac{6}{6}$, with or without such lens or lenses.

5. A candidate having a defect of vision arising from nebula of the cornea is disqualified if the sight of one eye be less than $\frac{6}{12}$. In such a case the better eye must be emmetropic. Defects of vision arising from pathological or other changes in the deeper structures of either eye, which are not referred to in these rules, may exclude a candidate.

6. Squint or any morbid condition, subject to the risk of aggravation or recurrence, in either eye, may cause the rejection of a candidate. Any imperfection of the colour sense is a disqualification for appointment to the engineering branch of the Railway Department. In other cases the existence of imperfection of colour sense will be noted on the candidate's papers.

FOR ALL APPOINTMENTS UNDER THE INDIAN GOVERNMENT A DECLARATION, AS FOLLOWS, IS REQUIRED FROM CANDIDATES.

1. I ____ declare upon honour that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, I am not at present suffering or affected with any form of disease or bodily infirmity, such as—

(a) Disease of the heart or lungs.
(b) Venereal disease.
(c) Fits.
(d) Rupture.
(e) Varicocele or varicose veins.
(f) Hydrocele.
(g) Malformation.
(h) Congenital defect.
(i) Defective sight or hearing.
(j) Loss of teeth.
(k) Impediment in speech.
(l) Gout or rheumatism.

2. That I have not to my knowledge any hereditary tendency or predisposition to mental or constitutional disease, such as—

(a) Fits or insanity.
(b) Cancer.
(c) Consumption or scrofula.

3. That I will fully reveal to the Medical Board all circumstances within my knowledge that concern my health and fitness for the appointment for which I am a candidate.

4. That I have previously been examined by a Medical Board for the public service and was declared on the Pay on the senior scale will be drawn by officers holding charges of not less importance than the charge of a Division.

Promotions above the grade of Executive Engineer are dependent on the occurrence of vacancies in the sanctioned establishment, and are made wholly by selection; mere seniority is considered to confer no claim to promotion.

APPENDIX V. (See para. 17 of the Regulations.)

NOTE.—This Appendix is merely intended to show the principal leave rules in the Fundamental Rules and the Pension Rules in the Civil Service Regulations at present applicable to Engineers appointed to the Indian Services from the United Kingdom without going into minute details, and does not profess to deal with every case that may arise. The rules are subject to alteration, and any disputed question must be decided with reference to the authorised text of the Fundamental Rules or Civil Service Regulations for the time being.

LEAVE.

Leave is calculated in terms of "leave on average pay," and the amount of "leave on average pay" for which an officer is eligible is five-twenty-seconds of the period spent on duty.

Subject to certain maxima and minima, an officer may draw, at his option, leave salary equal to the average pay of the last 12 months of completed duty or to half such average pay. All leave on average pay and half the period on half average pay is counted against the leave earned. An officer may take his leave on average pay, on half average pay, or on a combination of the two, provided that his continuous absence from duty does not exceed 28 months, and that the amount of leave taken on average pay does not exceed eight months at any one time. The maximum amount of leave admissible during an officer's career is the equivalent of leave on average pay for three years plus one-eleventh of the period spent on duty, of which not more than one year plus one-eleventh of the period spent on duty may actually consist of leave on average pay. Leave not due and carrying half average pay may be granted on medical certificate, and, within certain limits, for other reasons, but an officer will not again commence to earn leave until the expiration of a fresh period of duty sufficient to earn a credit of leave equal to the leave he has taken before it was due. After 28 months' absence from duty an officer draws quarter average salary, subject to certain maxima and minima.

Leave salary is ordinarily payable in rupees if the officer spends his leave in India or Ceylon, and in sterling if he spends it elsewhere. The rate of exchange for the conversion of leave salary is prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of State.

It should be noted that leave can never be claimed as of right, but is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

PENSIONS.

13. The following is a summary of the pension rules applicable to Engineers appointed to the Indian Services by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom.

Ordinary Pensions.

14. Subject to the absolute right of the Government of India to decline to permit any officer to retire before reaching the age for superannuation, should it be necessary in the public interest to retain his services, officers will be allowed to retire optionally after 20 or more years' service.

15. Retirement is ordinarily required at the age of 55 years, but for special reasons an officer is sometimes retained after attaining that age.

16. An officer becomes eligible for full retiring pension on completing 30 years' qualifying service.

17. If before completing this period of service an officer is permitted to retire voluntarily after completion of 20 or more years' qualifying service (paragraph 14) or is compelled to retire on attaining the age of 55 (paragraph 15), he will be eligible for pension on the following scale :—

Years of Completed Service.	Maximum Limit of Pension.
	Rs.
20	4,000 per annum.
25	5,000 „
26	5,200 „
27	5,400 „
28	5,600 „
29	5,800 „
30	6,000 „

18. Government may retire any officer after he has completed 25 years' service without giving reasons, and without any claim for compensation in addition to pension, and in that event the pension admissible to him will ordinarily be regulated on a scale not exceeding that laid down above. Government also reserves the general power to reduce the pension ordinarily admissible in all cases where an officer's service has been unsatisfactory.

19. An officer who is compelled to retire through ill-health not occasioned by irregular or intemperate habits will be eligible for gratuity or pension as follows :—

(a) After a service of less than 10 years a gratuity not exceeding (except in special cases and under the orders of the Government of India, up to a maximum of 12 months' emoluments) one month's emoluments for each completed year of service. If the emoluments of the officer have been reduced during the last three years of his service, otherwise than as a penalty, average emoluments may, at the discretion of the authority which has power to sanction the gratuity, be substituted for emoluments.

(b) After a service of not less than 10 years, a pension not exceeding the following amounts :—

Years of Completed Service.	Scale of Pension.			Maximum

Additional Pensions.

20. The Government of India have classified certain high appointments into two grades, the lower comprising those posts which involve high but intermediate responsibility, the higher consisting of those which require a marked degree of independent administrative and professional capacity. Officers who have held appointments listed in the lower grade will be entitled to an additional pension at the rate of Rs. 300 per year for each completed year of effective service in any appointment included in that grade, provided that no officer may draw an additional pension in excess of Rs. 1,500 in respect of service classed in the lower grade. Officers who have held appointments listed in the upper grade will be entitled to an additional pension at the rate of Rs. 500 for each completed year of effective service rendered in any appointment included in that grade provided that no officer may draw an additional pension in excess of Rs. 2,500 in respect of service rendered in the lower and upper grades combined or in the upper grade alone.

21. These additional pensions will be awarded only to officers who have given proof of special energy and efficiency, and will be subject to the condition that an officer must not retire voluntarily before the age of 55 with less than 28 years' service.

The upper grade includes the Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, the Inspector-General of Irrigation, Chief Engineers of the Indian Service of Engineers, Agents of State Railways (if in pensionable service) and Chief Engineers, Railways.

The lower grade includes Superintending Engineers, Indian Service of Engineers, Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Public Works Department, Deputy Agents of State Railways (if in pensionable service) and the Secretary, Railway Board (if in pensionable service).

PROVIDENT FUND.

22. A general Provident Fund, to which contribution is compulsory, has also been established on the following basis:—

(1) The contribution is compulsory up to $6\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. on salaries, with voluntary contributions of not more than a further $9\frac{3}{8}$ per cent. Subscriptions on leave of any kind are optional.

(2) Compound interest on such payments is annually credited by Government to each officer subscribing.

(3) The sum which thus accumulates to the credit of an officer is his absolute property, subject to the rules of the Fund, and is handed over to him, unconditionally, on quitting the Service; or, in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives or such other person or persons as, under and subject to the rules of the Fund for the time being in force, may be entitled thereto.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In view of the attempts that have been made and are being made (a) by means of threats, intimidation and otherwise to induce members of the Police-Force to refrain from doing their duty, and (b) to spread disaffection among them, the Government of India have for sometime had under consideration the question of penalizing such attempts. Neither the Indian Penal Code nor the Indian Police Act, 1861, contains provisions to meet this evil. A prosecution could doubtless in certain cases be instituted under section 29 of the Indian Police Act, 1861, read with the abetment sections of the Indian Penal Code, but section 29 of the Police Act was designed to meet ordinary breaches of discipline, and would not cover many dangerous forms of tampering with the police. Moreover, the maximum punishment permissible under that section, viz., three months' rigorous imprisonment is manifestly inadequate for serious offences of this nature. The Government of India are accordingly of opinion that the authorities should be given additional means of dealing with this form of crime, and it is proposed, therefore, to enact the attached Bill, which has been framed on the lines of section 3 of the English Police Act of 1919 (9 & 10 Geo V, Ch. 46).

Amendment of section 24, Act IX of 1887.

5. In section 24 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act, 1887, for the words and figures "section 588, clause (29) of the Code of Civil Procedure", the words and figures "section 104 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908," shall be substituted; and after the words "District Court," the following words shall be added, namely :— IX of 1887. V of 1908.

"on any ground on which an appeal from such order would lie under that section".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill is intended to take the place of the Bill which was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st March, 1921, and was withdrawn with the leave of the Assembly on the 25th January, 1922. The object of that Bill was to provide more effective means of meeting the great evil arising from the institution of fraudulent and dishonest suits by empowering Courts to award compensatory costs in fraudulent suits. The Bill was circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinions, and along with the opinions received, was referred to a Committee consisting of Members of the Council of State and the Legislative Assembly appointed by the Governor General in Council. The Committee was of the opinion that the summary procedure proposed by the Bill was likely to prove far more of a deterrent than the fear of a prosecution for perjury in the remote future. They considered, however, that the scope of the Bill should be extended in certain respects.

The detailed recommendations of the Committee were was follows :—

"I.—Limitation of amount to be awarded.

"It was agreed that the amount to be awarded should not exceed the pecuniary limits of the jurisdiction of the Court or Rs. 1,000, whichever is less, with the following special provisions regarding Courts exercising Small Cause Court powers, namely, a maximum of Rs. 250 for a Munsiff and Rs. 500 for a subordinate Judge; a provision to be added that these maxima are to be subject to rules made by the High Court so as to enable High Courts to limit the amount awardable by certain classes of Courts, e.g., the lower grade Courts of Munsiffs with limited jurisdictions as in the Punjab.

"II.—Appeals.

"In connection with this, it was incidentally decided that provision should be made for reasons to be recorded in writing whenever an order is made awarding compensatory costs. It was also agreed that there should be an appeal in every case, except that (a) there should be no appeal against an order refusing damages or against the absence of any order, and (b) there should be no appeal by way of cross appeal or otherwise asking for an increase of the amount awarded. It was agreed that in no case should there be a second appeal.

"III.—False defences.

"Though the Committee was not entirely unanimous on the point, it was agreed that provision should be made also for the award of damages to the plaintiff where a false defence was set up by the defendant.

"IV.—Execution proceedings.

"It was pointed out that the evil existed to a larger extent in execution proceedings than in original suits, and it was unanimously decided that the provisions of the Bill should apply to false claims put forward in support of execution proceedings as well as to false objections.

"V.—Vexatious suits.

"The opinion was generally held that the provisions of the Bill should apply to suits, etc., which are both false and vexatious. The matter was left to be examined by the draftsmen.

"VI.—Operation of the Bill.

"It was agreed that the Bill should only come into operation in such areas as might be notified by the Local Government, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council. It was suggested that the power to extend the operation might cover the whole or any specified portion of the Bill."

The present Bill has been prepared in order to carry out the recommendations of the Committee.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 31st January, 1922 :—

No. 5 OF 1922.

A Bill further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

I of 1894. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Land Acquisition Act, 1894; It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Land Acquisition (Amendment) Act, 192 .

I of 1894. Amendment of section 6, Act I of 1894.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 6 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the words "The said declaration," the words "except as hereinafter provided" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 7, Act I of 1894.

3. To section 7 of the said Act, the following proviso shall be added, namely :—

"Provided that no officer who is responsible for the selection of the land to be acquired, or who has made the preliminary inquiry under section 4, shall be appointed Collector under this section."

Amendment of section 9, Act I of 1894.

4. In section 9 of the said Act,—

(a) in sub-section (1), after the words "and that," the words "objection, if any, to such taking possession of the land and" shall be inserted;

(b) in sub-section (2), after the words "the nature of their respective interests in the land," the words "the reasons for their objection, if any, to its acquisition" shall be inserted; and in the same sub-section after the words "for such interests," the words "as they claim in the land" shall be inserted.

Substitution of new section for section 11, Act I of 1894.

5. For section 11 of the said Act, the following section shall be substituted, namely :—

Inquiry and award by Collector.

"11. (1) On the day so fixed, or on any other day to which the inquiry has been adjourned, the Collector shall first proceed to inquire into the objection, if any, which any person interested has stated pursuant to a notice given under section 9 to the proposed acquisition of the land, and shall pass orders either allowing or rejecting the objection. The acquisition of the land shall be objected to only on the ground that the purpose for which the land is required is not a public purpose within the meaning of the Act, or that the proposed acquisition is malicious or vexatious :

Provided that, in the case of big projects such as railways, irrigation canals or roads, the proposed acquisition shall be presumed to be proper until the contrary is proved.

(2) If either the officer applying for the acquisition of the land or the person objecting to it is dissatisfied with the order of the Collector in their behalf, he may, by written application made to the Collector within a month of the Collector's order being communicated to him, require that the matter be referred by the Collector for the determination of the Court. The provisions of sections 18 to 22 shall, as far as may be, apply to inquiries by the Court under this clause. The decision of the Court shall be final.

(3) If the Court upholds the objection to the proposed acquisition of the land, no further action shall be taken in the matter. If no objection to the acquisition has been duly made, or if an objection has been made, but finally set aside by a competent authority, the Collector shall proceed to inquire into the objections, if any, which any person has stated pursuant to a notice issued under section 9 to the measurements made under section 8 and into the value of the land and into the respective interests of the persons claiming the compensation, and shall make an award under his hand of—

(i) the true area of the land;

(ii) the compensation which in his opinion should be allowed for the land; and

(iii) the apportionment of the said compensation among all the persons known or believed to be interested in the land, of whom, or of whose claims, he has information whether or not they have respectively appeared before him.

(4) Nothing contained in clauses (1) to (3) of this section shall affect the provisions of section 17."

Amendment of section 35, Act I of 1894.

6. In sub-section (3) of section 35 of the said Act, after the words "apportionment thereof," the words "or in case any person interested objects to the acquisition" shall be inserted.

7. To sub-section (1) of section 36 of the said Act, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

Amendment of section 36, Act I of 1894.

"Provided that the propriety of the proposed acquisition itself is not in dispute."

8. In section 47 of the said Act, the following words shall be omitted, namely:—

Amendment of section 47, Act I of 1894.

"he shall, if a Magistrate, enforce the surrender of the land to himself, and, if not a Magistrate."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE Land Acquisition Act, 1894, as it stands, makes no provisions against unlawful or vexatious acquisition of land. This is felt as a real grievance, and the Bill is intended to remove this grievance. As subsidiary provisions the Bill lays down that the officer who is responsible for the selection of the land to be acquired or for the preliminary inquiry under section 4 of the Act, shall not be appointed as Collector, and that the Collector shall not enforce his own orders. It is desirable that the acquiring officer should enter on his quasi judicial duties with an open mind.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 31st January, 1922 : —

No. 6 of 1922.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

V of 1898. WHEREAS it is expedient to give a legal status to persons practising as lawyers in Criminal Courts, known as mukhtars, and further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for that purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows: —

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 192 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

Amendment of section 4, Act V of 1898.

2. In clause (r) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, after the words "an attorney of a High Court," the words "and a mukhtar" shall be inserted, and the words "mukhtar or" shall be omitted. V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Persons practising in Criminal Courts known as mukhtars practise under a licence from the High Courts after duly passing an examination held under the auspices of the High Courts for that purpose and are recognised practitioners in Criminal Courts. For all practical purposes, they are treated as recognised members of the profession. Under the present law the mukhtars have received permission from the Courts to act for their clients. In fact, this permission is usually and generally granted, but in some rare cases have been withheld. Above all, the members of the profession have a sentimental grievance inasmuch as they have been placed in the same category as ordinary persons without any training or licence. The grievance has caused much discontent, and it is desirable that it should be removed. This will not affect the dignity or status of any class of lawyers, or in any way affect the administration of justice. As the mukhtars have to pass a fairly good test and have to renew their licence every year, which depends upon their professional good conduct, it is unnecessary to retain the disability under which they at present suffer.

Clause 2 removes the disabilities referred to above.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 1st February 1922:—

No. 7 OF 1922.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912.

IV of 1912. WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Indian Lunacy (Amendment) Act, 1922.

IV of 1912. Amendment of section 3, Act IV of 1912. 2. In section 3 of the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) in clause (1), after the word 'asylum' where it occurs for the second time, the words 'or mental hospital' shall be inserted; and

(b) to clause (2) the following shall be added, namely:—

"together with any other charges specified in this behalf by the Governor General in Council, in exercise of any power conferred upon him by this Act."

Amendment of section 84, Act IV of 1912. 3 To section 84 of the said Act, the following words shall be added, namely:—

"if it is satisfied that provision has been or will be made for the curative treatment therein of persons suffering from mental diseases."

Insertion of new section 84A in Act IV of 1912. 4 After section 84 of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

Power to cancel licence if provision for curative treatment is insufficient. "84A. If in any licensed asylum no provision for curative treatment has been made, or the Local Government considers that the provision made is insufficient, the Local Government may require the person in charge of the asylum to take such measures for making or supplementing such provision as it may deem necessary, and, if such person does not comply with the requisition within a reasonable time, the Local Government may revoke the licence."

Insertion of new sections 89A and 89B in Act IV of 1912. 5 After section 89 of the said Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

Fixation of cost of maintenance. "89A. The Governor General in Council may, by general or special order, prescribe the amount payable on account of the cost of maintenance of lunatics detained in any asylum for the cost of whose maintenance any Local Government is liable, and the proportions in which such amount shall be payable respectively by the Local Governments so liable. Any such amount may include charges on account of the upkeep of the asylum and of the capital cost of the establishment of the asylum.

Incidence of costs of maintenance payable by Government. 89B. (1). When under the provisions of this Act the cost of the maintenance of a lunatic is payable by the Government, then such cost shall be payable—

(a) in the case of a lunatic not domiciled in British India, by the Local Government of the province in which the reception order or the order under section 25, as the case may be, was made; and

(b) in the case of a lunatic domiciled in British India, by the Local Government of the province in which the lunatic has last resided for a period of five years before the reception order or the order under section 25, as the case may be, was made; or, if the lunatic has not been resident in any one province for such period, by the Local Government of the province in which such order was made.

(2) If any question arises as to the incidence of the cost of maintenance of any lunatic under sub-section (1), the question shall be referred to the Governor General in Council, and his decision thereon shall be final."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, so as—

(1) to permit of the designation of lunatic asylums as mental hospitals; and

(2) to provide for the recovery of charges for lunatics maintained in an asylum of one province who belong to another province.

2. Modern opinion is in favour of asylums being regarded as hospitals for the treatment of mental cases, and not as homes in which lunatics can be interned and restrained, and in the present condition of asylums in India, it is, therefore, considered desirable that the curative treatment which should be available in these institutions should be emphasised. It is, however, necessary to retain the word " asylum " in the Act, because of its use in other legislation; but by making the definition cover not only an institution designated as an " asylum," but also one designated as a " mental hospital ", it will be possible for Local Governments to cause their institutions to be styled either by the one name or by the other, or by a combination of the two. The proposed amendments in clauses 3 and 4 of the Bill are consequential to this proposal.

3. Under the Reform Scheme the maintenance in an asylum of one province of a lunatic belonging to another province should be regarded as a service rendered by the former province to the latter, for which payment should be made under Devolution Rule 14 (e).

It is probable that great increases in the number of lunatics so maintained in asylums of provinces to which they do not belong will follow from the substitution of large central asylums for small district asylums, and it is considered that upon the adoption of this policy any substantial improvement in the condition of asylums in India must largely depend. The Bill, therefore, proposes that, so far as lunatics domiciled in India are concerned, in any case in which the cost of maintenance will fall upon a Local Government, the Local Government to meet the cost shall be the Local Government of the province in which the lunatic has last resided for a period of five years If there is no such Local Government then, the cost would fall upon the Local Government of the province from which the lunatic was sent to the asylum In order to cover the case of central asylums established to meet the needs of more than one province, it is further provided that the cost of maintenance may include charges on account of the capital cost of the establishment of the asylum

REPORT OF ARRIVAL IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

1. A Government servant taking leave in the United Kingdom must report his arrival in that country to the High Commissioner for India.

PAYMENT OF LEAVE-SALARY.

Payment at the Home Treasury.

2. No Government servant can begin to draw leave-salary from the Home Treasury until he has presented to the High Commissioner a leave-salary certificate in such form as the Auditor General may prescribe.

3. Leave-salary is issued from the Home Treasury monthly in arrear on the first day of each calendar month

4. Payment will be made, at the option of the Government servant drawing leave-salary, by any of the following methods:—

(a) To the Government servant himself on his personal application.

(b) To his banker or other agent, duly authorised under power-of-attorney, on production of a life certificate duly filled up and executed. In cases where the banker has guaranteed the Secretary of State or the High Commissioner against loss consequent upon dispensation with proof of existence, a life certificate is unnecessary.

Note.—A supply of life certificate forms may be obtained from the High Commissioner.

(c) To the presenter of a payment form comprising a receipt and a life certificate, both duly completed by the Government servant.

Note.—If the Government servant intimates to the High Commissioner his election of this method, he will be regularly supplied with the requisite payment form as the due date of issue approaches.

Payment in a Colony.

5. No Government servant can begin to draw leave-salary from a Colonial treasury until a warrant in form 1 has been issued in his favour. Such warrants will be issued in triplicate. The original, bearing the Government servant's signature, will be forwarded by the issuing authority to the Colonial authority concerned; the duplicate to the High Commissioner; and the triplicate will be retained by the Government servant. EXTENSION OF LEAVE.

General rule.

11. An application for extension of leave by a Government servant on leave in Europe, North Africa, America or the West Indies must be made to the High Commissioner. If a Government servant on leave in any of the localities named in rule 11 desires, on grounds other than medical, an extension of leave granted on medical certificate, he must satisfy the Medical Board at the India Office, by the procedure described in rule 12, that he has recovered his health.

Applications by Government servants on leave elsewhere out of India.

14. An application for extension of leave by a Government servant on leave out of India elsewhere than in the localities named in rule 11 must be made to the authority which granted the leave.

15. If an application made under rule 14 is for an extension of leave on medical certificate, it must be accompanied by a certificate from two medical practitioners in the following form :—

"We hereby certify that we have carefully examined C. D. of the________ __________ who is suffering from____________________ and we declare upon our honour that, according to the best of our judgment and belief, he is at present unfit for duty in India, and that it is absolutely necessary for the recovery of his health that his present leave, which will expire in India on______ __________, shall be extended by________________________ months / weeks."

*Date*____________________

*Place*____________________

16. An extension of leave will not be granted by the High Commissioner to a Government servant to whom no leave-salary certificate has been issued, or who has exchanged his leave-salary certificate for a warrant before leaving India, unless he produces a certificate of leave in form II.

RETURN FROM LEAVE.

Permission to return.

17. A Government servant who is required, by or under fundamental rule 71, to produce a medical certificate of fitness before returning to duty, must obtain permission to return to duty before so returning.

18. If the Government servant desiring to return is on leave in any of the localities named in rule 11, his application must be made to the High Commissioner and he must satisfy the Medical Board at the India Office of his fitness to return at least two months before the expiry of his leave. In order to do so he must follow the procedure prescribed in rule 12. When the Medical Board has been satisfied, the High Commissioner will grant permission to return.

19. If the Government servant desiring to return is on leave out of India elsewhere than in the localities named in rule 11, his application must be made to the authority which granted his leave and must be accompanied by a certificate of fitness in the prescribed form.

20. Permission to return cannot be granted to a Government servant to whom no leave-salary certificate has been issued, or who has exchanged his leave salary certificate for a warrant before leaving India, until he produces a certificate of leave in form II.

Last-pay certificate.

NOTE 2.—This certificate must be produced before the High Commissioner with any application for an extension of leave or permission to return to duty or the grant of a last-pay certificate.

Memorandum explanatory of each rule in the rules of leave procedure made under fundamental rule 74 (b).

Rule 1—is taken from article 222, Civil Service Regulations, with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the Secretary of State.

Rule 2.—This is taken from articles 867 and 874, Civil Service Regulations, and covers the first part of article 886 also. The High Commissioner has been substituted for the Secretary of State, as he will in future pay leave-salary on behalf of the Government of India.

Rule 3—replaces the first part of article 869 of the Civil Service Regulations. The old arrangements of quarterly calculations and rounded instalments will not be maintained in future

Rule 4—replaces the second part of article 869, Civil Service Regulations. At the suggestion of the High Commissioner, the procedure has been modified in some respects.

Rule 5—contains the substance of the first part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 6—is the second part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations, amplified in accordance with existing practice.

Rule 7—contains the substance of the last part of article 889, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 8—contains the relevant part of article 891, Civil Service Regulations, with the High Commissioner substituted for the Under-Secretary of State.

Rule 9—provides for certain cases for which the old rules make no specific provision. It is considered unnecessary in this connection to provide for article 871 (b), Civil Service Regulations, as the procedure thereby prescribed follows necessarily from rules 2 and 5.

Rule 10—contains a regulation previously embodied in articles 299 (a) and 300, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 11—contains the substance of the first paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations, and of article 299 (b), with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the Secretary of State. The rule makes no mention of commutation of leave, which ceased to exist, under that name, when the fundamental rules came into force. It is considered unnecessary to repeat in these rules the provision that the Government servant on leave must pay the cost of telegrams. The High Commissioner will see to this, and the fact will be mentioned in the memorandum of instructions to officers proceeding on leave. The note under article 299 (b) has been omitted for similar reasons.

Rule 12—contains the substance of the second paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations, read with article 888 (a).

Rule 13—contains the substance of the first part of the third paragraph of article 299 (a), Civil Service Regulations. The second part of that paragraph is omitted, as it is considered to be unsuitable under the new leave rules.

Rule 14—is taken from the first part of article 300, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 15—is article 888 (b), Civil Service Regulations, re-worded in places.

Rule 16—is taken from articles 872 and 873, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 17.—The fact stated in this rule is nowhere in the Civil Service Regulations laid down as a general rule, but it follows as a matter of course from the provision in fundamental rule 71 for the production of a medical certificate.

Rule 18—contains the substance of the relevant portion of article 224, Civil Service Regulations, with the substitution of the High Commissioner for the India Office.

Rule 19—also follows as a matter of course from fundamental rule 71. The Government of India propose to delegate the power of extending leave to the authority which granted it.

Rule 20—is taken from articles 872 and 873, Civil Service Regulations.

Rule 21.—"Leave-salary Certificate" is the new title adopted by the Auditor General in his leave procedure rules. The requirement of such a certificate is taken from article 886, Civil Service Regulations; that of a certificate of leave is obviously necessary before a last-pay certificate can be granted; and the delivery of a warrant is taken from article 890, Civil Service Regulations.

"This Council recommends to the Governor General in Council that this Council be authorised, if necessary, by statute, to receive from the public, petitions on all matters relating to public wrong, grievance or disability or to any act or acts of public servants, or to public policy; to investigate the complaint and to make a report to this Council; and that a committee be constituted on public petitions with powers to examine witnesses and record evidence."

exercise any powers with reference to petitions and, if so, what those powers should be, and further in that case whether standing committees of the two Chambers should be constituted and, if so, what should be the procedure and what limitations should be imposed on the powers of the Committees.

POLITICAL.

Delhi, the 10th February 1922.

No. 340.—The following Communiqué, dated the 6th February 1922, is published for general information :—

The manifesto issued by Mr. Gandhi on the 4th February justifying his determination to resort to mass civil disobedience contains a series of misstatements. Some of these are so important that the Government of India cannot allow them to pass unchallenged. In the first place they emphatically repudiate the statement that they have embarked on a policy of lawless repression and also the suggestion that the present campaign of civil disobedience has been forced on the non-cooperation party in order to secure the elementary rights of free association, free speech and of free press. In limine the Government of India desire to draw attention to the fact that the decision to adopt a programme of civil disobedience was finally accepted on the 4th November before the recent notifications relating either to the Seditious Meetings Act or the Criminal Law Amendment Act, to which Mr. Gandhi unmistakeably refers, were issued. It was in consequence of serious acts of lawlessness committed by persons who professed to be followers of Mr. Gandhi and the non-cooperation movement that the Government were forced to take measures which are in strict accordance with the law for the protection of peaceful citizens in the pursuit of their lawful avocations.

2. Since the inauguration of the non-cooperation movement, the Government of India actuated by a desire to avoid anything in the nature of the repressions of political activity, even though it was of an extreme character, have restricted their action in relation thereto to such measures as were necessary for the maintenance of law and order and the preservation of public tranquillity. Up to November no steps save in Delhi last year were taken against volunteer associations. In November however the Government were confronted with a new and dangerous situation In the course of the past year, there had been systematic attempts to tamper with the loyalty of the soldiers and the police and there had occurred numerous outbreaks of serious disorder directly attributable to the propaganda of the non-cooperation party amongst the ignorant and excitable masses. These outbreaks had resulted in grave loss of life; the growth of a dangerous spirit of lawlessness; and an increasing disregard for lawful authority. In November they culminated in the grave riots in Bombay, in which 53 persons lost their lives and approximately 400 were wounded. On the same date dangerous manifestations of lawlessness occurred in many other places and at this period it became clear that many of the volunteer associations had embarked on a systematic campaign of violence, intimidation and obstruction, to combat which proceedings under the Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure had proved ineffective. In these circumstances the Government were compelled to resort to measures of a more comprehensive and drastic character. Nevertheless the operation of the Seditious Meetings Act was strictly limited to a few districts in which the risk of grave disturbances of the peace was specially great and the application of the Criminal Law Amendment Act of 1908 was confined to associations the majority of the members of which had habitually indulged in violence and intimidation. It is impossible here to set out in detail the evidence which justified the adoption of these measures in the different provinces. Abundant proof is however to be found in the published proceedings of the various legislative bodies, in the communiqués of different local Governments, and in the pronouncements of heads of provinces. While resolute in their determination to enforce respect for law and order and to protect loyal and peaceful subjects of the Crown, the Government have at the same time taken every precaution possible to mitigate, where desirable, the conditions of imprisonment and to avoid any action which might have the appearance of vindictive severity. Ample proof of this will be found in the orders issued by local Governments. Numerous offenders have been released; sentences have been reduced and special consideration has been shown in the case of persons convicted of offences under the Seditious Meetings Act or the Criminal Law Amendment Act There is thus no shadow of justification for the charge that their policy has been one of indiscriminate and lawless repression.

3. A further charge which has been brought by Mr. Gandhi is that the recent measures of Government have involved a departure from " the civilised policy laid down by His Excellency at the time of the apology of the Ali brothers, namely that the Government of India should not interfere with the activities of non-cooperators so long as they remained non-violent in word and deed." The following citation from the communiqué of the Government of India issued on the 30th May conclusively disproves this statement. After explaining that in view of the solemn undertaking contained in the statement over their signature, it had been decided to refrain from instituting criminal proceedings against Messrs. Muhammad Ali and Shaukat Ali, the Government of India observed:

"It must not be inferred from the original determination of the Government to prosecute for speeches inciting to violence, that promoting disaffection of a less violent character is not an offence against the law. The Government of India desire to make it plain that they will enforce the law relating to offences against the State as and when they may think fit against any persons who have committed breaches of it."

4. It remains for the Government of India to deal with the allegation that His Excellency summarily rejected the proposal for a conference although the terms put forward by the Conference at Bombay and accepted by the Working Committee of the Congress were "quite in keeping with His Excellency's own requirements as indicated in his speech at Calcutta." How far this is from being the case will be manifest from a comparison of His Excellency's speech with the terms proposed by the Conference. His Excellency in that speech insisted on the imperative necessity as a fundamental condition precedent to the discussion of any question of a conference, of the discontinuance of the unlawful activities of the non-cooperation party. No assurance on this point was, however, contained in the proposals advanced by the Conference. On the contrary whilst the Government were asked to make concessions which not only included the withdrawal of the notifications under the Criminal Law Amendment and Seditious Meetings Acts and the release of persons convicted thereunder, but also the release of persons convicted of offences designed to affect the loyalty of the army, and the submission to an arbitration committee of the cases of other persons convicted under the ordinary law of the land—there was no suggestion that any of the illegal activities of the non-cooperators other than hartals, picquetting and civil disobedience should cease. Moreover it was evident from the statements made by Mr. Gandhi at the Conference that he intended to continue the enrolment of volunteers in prohibited associations and preparations for civil disobedience. Further Mr. Gandhi also made it apparent that the proposed Round Table Conference would be called merely to register his decrees. It is idle to suggest that terms of this character fulfilled in any way the essentials laid down by His Excellency or can reasonably be described as having been made in response to the sentiments expressed by him. Finally the Government of India desire to draw attention to the demands put forward in the concluding paragraph of Mr. Gandhi's present manifesto which exceed even the demands made by the Working Committee of the Congress. Mr. Gandhi's demands now include—

(1) the release of all prisoners "convicted or under-trial for non-violent activities;"

(2) a guarantee that Government will refrain absolutely from interference with all non-violent activities of the non-cooperation party even though they fall within the purview of the Indian Penal Code; or in other words an undertaking that Government will indefinitely hold in abeyance in regard to the non-cooperators the ordinary and long-established law of the land.

In return for these concessions he indicates that he intends to continue the illegal and seditious propaganda and operations of the non-cooperation party, and merely offers to postpone civil disobedience of an aggressive character until the offenders now in jail have had an opportunity of reviewing the whole situation. In the same paragraph he re-affirms the unalterable character of the demands of his party.

The Government of India are confident that all right thinking citizens will recognise that this manifesto constitutes no response whatever to the speech of His Excellency at Calcutta and that the demands made are such as no Government could discuss, much less accept.

5. The alternatives that now confront the people of India are such as sophistry can no longer obscure or disguise. The issue is no longer between this or that programme of political advance, but between lawlessness with all its dangerous consequences on the one hand and on the other the maintenance of those principles which lie at the root of all civilised Government.

Mass civil disobedience is fraught with such danger to the State that it must be met with sternness and severity. The Government entertain no doubt that in any measures which they may have to take for its suppression they can count on the support and assistance of all law-abiding and loyal citizens of His Majesty.

Clause 2.—We would omit this clause and, subject to what we say below, would leave section 5 of the Act as it stands. We think it would be dangerous to apply section 5 to all applications, for example, applications by a judgment-debtor to set aside a sale in execution of a decree, and applications by a decree-holder for execution of a decree. If section 5 were applicable to all such applications, there would be no finality in the processes of the Courts, and this would lead to a most undesirable result in all cases where title to property is involved. We think, however, that the words "made applicable by any enactment or rule for the time being in force" are, in so far as they refer to rules, vague, inasmuch as there is no definition of the term 'rule'. The intention no doubt is to refer to a statutory rule or a rule having the force of law, e.g., rules contained in the Schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, and, in particular, Order 22, Rule 9. We would, therefore, amend section 5 by substituting the words "by or under any enactment" for the words "by any enactment or rule."

Clause 3.—We have carefully considered each section in Parts II and III of the Act for the purpose of deciding whether it should apply to periods of limitation prescribed by special or local laws or not. We think provision should be made that section 4, sections 9 to 18 and section 22 should apply, unless they are expressly excluded by the special or local law, and that the remaining provisions of the Act should not apply. This will, of course, not preclude amendments of special or local laws with a view to the application of such provisions. We have accordingly amended section 29 (2), which clause 3 of the Bill will insert in the Act, and we have re-drafted the opening words of the sub-section with a view to make the intention clearer.

2. We think that the Bill has not been so altered as to require re-publication, and we recommend that it be passed as now amended.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Report of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Legislative Assembly Standing Orders was presented to the Legislative Assembly on the 3rd February, 1922:—

We, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee to which certain draft amendments of the Standing Orders were referred, have the honour to make the following Report:—

We have considered the draft amendments moved in the Assembly by the Honourable Sir William Vincent, Mr. Frank McCarthy, Rao Bahadur T. Rangachariar, Rai Sahib Lakshmi Narain Lal and Sir P. S. Sivaswamy Aiyer, and we have also examined numerous other suggestions for amendments emanating from members of the Assembly or Departments of the Government of India in respect of which no formal motions were made in the Assembly. For convenience we deal with the amendments in the order of the Standing Orders to which they relate.

Standing Order 7.—We have accepted the re-draft of this Standing Order proposed by the Honourable Sir William Vincent down to the end of 7 B(1). By a majority we have decided against the amendment suggested in the proposed Standing Order 7 B(2). This sub-order was intended to inaugurate a procedure by which a majority of the Assembly, with the permission of the President, could give priority on a non-official day to a Resolution which had not secured a place in the ballot for that day. We understand that this procedure was suggested as a substitute for the practice under which in the past Government has given time on official days for selected Resolutions of general public interest. Most of us think that this object, namely, of securing the discussion of a Resolution in which members are generally interested, should be capable of attainment under the Standing Orders as they are. If members are generally desirous that a particular Resolution should obtain time for discussion, their object can be secured by concentrating on that Resolution in one ballot. This would probably result in the particular Resolution obtaining an early place in the ballot, and its position could be secured if members earlier on the list would withdraw in its favour. We think that the tendency to co-operate in this manner might be weakened by introducing the priority procedure suggested in the draft Standing Order 7 B(2), and we have, therefore, omitted it. Our Honourable colleague, Sir William Vincent, made it clear to us that Government may not in the future be able to give time for non-official Resolutions.

We considered a suggestion by Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer that within five days of any ballot any two members might by agreement interchange their Resolutions on the list. We think that this would be objectionable and impracticable, and that members whose Resolutions had obtained an earlier place on the list than the Resolutions which would by Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer's proposal obtain precedence would have a justifiable grievance at this upsetting of the ballot result.

Rai Sahib Lakshmi Narain Lal's proposal to provide in Standing Order 7(2) that the President, with the consent of the Member of the Government concerned, may take up non-official business without a ballot on Government days was rejected by us. Rule 6 already enables non-official business to be taken on a Government day with the consent of the Government.

Standing Order 8.—We have accepted the proposed addition of sub-order (4) with some re-drafting in consequence of the decision to reject draft Standing Order 7 B(2).

Standing Order 9.—The same decision has necessitated a slight change in this draft amendment which otherwise we accept.

The Schedule.—It is convenient to refer to the Schedule here as the amendments necessitated therein are consequent on the amendments which we propose to Standing Orders 7, 8 and 9. In substance we have accepted the amendments suggested in the Honourable Sir William Vincent's draft, but we have gone a little further in one respect. We think there is no reason why a member, who has two or more Bills to introduce, should be prevented from introducing them on the same day. We would, therefore, enable such a member to take as many numbers in the Ballot lists as he has Bills to introduce, up to the number of three, and at the ballot to name a Bill for each number which he draws. We have re-drafted certain portions of the Schedule to give effect to this proposal.

Standing Order 11.—We have inserted the words "and signed by the member giving notice" after the word "Secretary" as proposed by Mr. Frank McCarthy.

Standing Order 15.—We have adopted the same member's draft amendment to this Standing Order. We do not think that questions should quote from newspapers or should mention the name of a newspaper.

Standing Order 18.—We do not think any amendment is required to this Standing Order, but our attention has been drawn to an Office Memorandum by the Department of Industries on the cost of producing the Official Report of Debates of the Legislative Assembly. We are not here concerned with the whole of that Memorandum, but solely with one item which makes a statement regarding the cost of certain Questions and Answers, to which we desire to draw the serious attention of the Legislative Assembly.

The five longest Answers given to Questions since the beginning of the first Session of the Legislative Assembly have cost the sum of Rs. 2,250 ; the most expensive of them costing no less than Rs. 900 itself. The five Questions referred to are the following :—

	Approximate cost. Rs.
(1) Question 89, Delhi Session— Loss by sale of Reverse Councils, 50 pages, mainly in tabular form	900
(2) Question 345, Simla Session— Enhancement of railway freights, 46 pages, mainly in tabular form	700
(3) Question 160, Simla Session— Recommendations of the Indian Jails Committee, 23 pages	350
(4) Question 61, Simla Session— Purchase of Railway Wagons in America, 20 pages	250
(5) Question 559, Simla Session— Indian Forest Service, 20 pages	250

On account of the excessive length and of the most serious burden of labour which the answering of such questions must cast on Departments of Government, and also on account of the large expense incurred in printing them, we are of opinion that measures should be taken to prevent the use of the Question paper of the Assembly for purposes of this kind. We consider that the purposes themselves are legitimate, but that they do not come within the proper function of a Parliamentary Question. We, therefore, think that the President would be justified in applying a strict interpretation of Standing Order 16 to Questions and Answers of this character.

We do not at present attempt to prescribe any procedure to meet the difficulty which might arise by the exclusion of such Questions under the discretion of the President. The House of Commons possesses a method—that of moving for a Return—by which information of a lengthy, intricate or expensive character is supplied, separately, in a White Paper or Blue Book. It is for consideration whether a procedure of this kind should or should not be adopted by the Legislative Assembly. The only opinion which we express here, is that some method of this kind is necessary to obviate such gross excrescences as that which appears as the Appendix to Volume 1, Part I of Legislative Assembly Debates.

We do not approve the proposal by Rai Sahib Lakshmi Narain Lal to substitute for Standing Orders 17 to 20 a bare direction that written Answers shall be circulated to members. We think that most, if not all, of the difficulties which arise out of the question procedure could be obviated if members would take the trouble to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the Rules and Standing Orders on the subject, and particularly with rule 7, which enables the President to disallow a Question on the ground that it relates to a matter which is not primarily the concern of the Governor General in Council.

Standing Order 19.—We have made an amendment here which will enable the President to direct, at the request of any member, that the answer to a starred question be given. We would not go to the length of Rao Bahadur T. Rangachariar's proposal to require the member making such request to have written authority from the member who is absent.

Standing Order 23.—We have adopted here the amendment proposed in the Honourable Sir William Vincent's motion. We do not consider that there is any ground whatever for making any of the amendments suggested by Rai Sahib Lakshmi Narain Lal and Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer in connection with the procedure for motions for an adjournment of the House.

Standing Order 25.—The amendments put forward by Mr. Frank McCarthy have in a modified form been adopted by us. We agree that a count should only be taken on demand, and that a second count should not be taken within an hour.

We have considered the series of amendments proposed by Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer which he would introduce in the form of new Standing Orders after Standing Order 30. We recognise that Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer has devoted considerable care and attention to the matters to which his amendments relate. But we think that they are matters which should be the subject of practice and precedent, and that they should not be introduced into the body of the Standing Orders. We are of opinion that his proposals would introduce a degree of rigidity into the procedure of the Assembly which is undesirable. There is at present a certain amount of elasticity which tends towards smooth working. Therefore, apart from numerous defects of drafting which the proposals contain, we do not think that they should be given effect to. We have, however, taken up in another form one suggestion of his, the object of which is to enable any member to adopt a motion put down in the name of an absent member. We think, however, this should be confined to Resolutions only, and that in every case the member proposing to adopt a Resolution should have written authority from the member who gave notice thereof, and that the President should have discretion even then to refuse permission to move. This alteration we have introduced by an amendment of Standing Order 61(2).

Standing Order 31.—The draft amendments proposed by the Honourable Sir William Vincent and Mr. Frank McCarthy both invite attention to the fact that this Standing Order is too rigid. We have attempted to examine all the cases in which a motion raising substantially the same question as another motion on which the Assembly has given a decision might not only be permissible, but might also be necessary. We have collected these cases into the proviso which we propose to add to Standing Order 31. We think the proviso exhausts the circumstances in which repetition should be permissible.

Standing Order 32.—We propose an amendment here to make it clear that the mover of an amendment, whether to a Resolution or to a Bill, has no absolute right of reply. We think discretion in the matter should be left in the hands of the President.

Standing Order 33.—We regard as unnecessary and undesirable the additions which Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer has proposed to this Standing Order. We do not agree to his amendments to Standing Order 37.

Standing Order 34.—Question has frequently arisen at meetings of the Assembly as to the position of a mover's right of reply when the closure is moved and carried. As the Standing Order is framed at present, we think there is no doubt that, when a motion for a closure is carried, any subsisting rights of reply have gone. We propose, therefore, that the President should have discretion to allow a right of reply after the closure is carried. We have re-drafted sub-order (3) in order to make its intention clearer.

Standing Orders 38, 39 and 40.—Various amendments have been proposed in these Standing Orders with a view to remove the doubts that have existed as to whether a Select Committee must be nominated by the same motion which refers the Bill to the committee. We have adopted the amendments of which notice was given by the Honourable Sir William Vincent to Standing Orders 38 and 40. These provide that, where a reference to a Select Committee is the result of a substantive motion, the committee should be appointed at the time, but where the motion for reference is by way of an amendment to a motion that a Bill be taken into consideration, then the appointment of the committee can be postponed to a subsequent meeting. We agree that as the Standing Order lays down that the Law Member, if a member of the Assembly, and the Member of the Government in charge must be members of the Select Committee, it is unnecessary that their names should be included in the motion.

Standing Orders 54 to 57.—We consider that steps should be taken at some time to make the amendment of the Standing Orders a far more deliberate proceeding than it is at present. It is a matter that should not be taken up light-heartedly. At the same time we are not prepared to put forward proposals at present with this end in view. We have contented ourselves with extending the period of notice required by Standing Order 54 from ten days to one month instead of 20 days suggested by Mr. Frank McCarthy.

Standing Order 59.—The amendment we propose here is intended to enable the President to deal with Resolutions of an omnibus character. We understand that many Resolutions of which notices are now received contain several issues, and the President will be in a position to disallow these, unless he is of opinion that they contain substantially one definite issue.

Standing Order 61.—The amendment made in this Standing Order has already been explained above.

Standing Order 62.—This Standing Order as drafted does not enable the President to extend the time for the speech of a mover of a Resolution or of a Member of the Government though other speeches can be extended with the President's permission beyond the fifteen minutes which the Standing Order allows. We have, therefore, provided for some elasticity in this matter.

Standing Order 72.—Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer proposed that the Assembly should be given power to suspend the operation of any of the Standing Orders at any time. We think this would be dangerous. The original Standing Orders have provided in numerous places that the President has discretion to suspend a particular Standing Order, and we have not discovered any case in which the absence of that discretion has been inconvenient, except with regard to Standing Order 72. We have, therefore, proposed an amendment here.

Standing Order 75.—We have adopted the amendment put forward by Mr. Frank McCarthy.

We do not think we need discuss in detail the numerous other amendments put forward. To a large extent the amendments were aimed at introducing a cast-iron procedure without any power of relaxation. We think the business of the Assembly would be seriously hampered if the various periods of notice suggested were laid down and could in no case be departed from. We do not approve of the suggestion that pending notices of Resolutions and Questions should be carried on from Session to Session. This would involve a large amount of fruitless labour and expense in the office of the Assembly. Sir Sivaswamy Aiyer's amendments to Standing Orders 37 and 38 would, in our opinion, have the same effect of introducing an undesirable rigidity in the procedure. His amendment to Standing Order 40 goes far beyond the Standing Order of the House of Commons, and would introduce a dangerous latitude in the scope of a Select Committee's duties.

We have introduced a new Standing Order 76 to enable the President to delegate his powers under the Standing Orders to the Deputy President. At present the Deputy President has no powers except when actually presiding at meetings of the Assembly. Circumstances might arise to prevent the President from exercising the numerous functions which devolve on him outside the Chamber, and we consider it desirable that provision should be made for the carrying on of these functions by the Deputy President. We think that there are functions of the President under the Rules (notably his power under Rule 7) which might suitably be delegated to the Deputy President; but we think it would be more suitable if this provision were made by an amendment of the Rules themselves.

We recommend that the amendments made by us be passed by the Assembly.

(For List of Appendices see page 90.)

REPORT OF THE DELEGATES OF INDIA TO THE SECOND SESSION OF THE ASSEMBLY OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE E. S. MONTAGU, M.P., HIS MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA.

SIR,

We beg to submit our Report on the proceedings of the second session of the Assmbly of the League of Nations at Geneva, at which we had the honour to represent India.

It may be mentioned that confidential weekly reports were sent by Sir William Meyer to the Under Secretary of State for India, and copy of the same to His Excellency the Viceroy.

2. The Assembly met on Monday, 5th September. This year there were 48 States with the right to send representatives, but none appeared from Argentina, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Peru and Salvador. A list of the delegates of other States will be found in Appendix I. As stated in paragraph 152, three new member States—Esthonia, Latvia, and Lithuania—were subsequently elected, and their delegates then took part in the Assembly's business.

3. Mr. Wellington Koo (China), as being for the time President of the Council, took the chair at the opening of the Assembly and made a good opening address.

4. The first business undertaken was the election of a Committee of eight members to examine the credentials of the delegates to the League. H. H. the Maharao of Kutch was one of the representatives on this Committee.

5. The next step was the election of a President, and M. van Karnebeek (Netherlands) was elected after a contest with M. da Cunha (Brazil). The British Empire Delegations had resolved to support M. van Karnebeek on the ground that it was not advisable that the President of the Assembly should belong to a State represented on the Council. M. van Karnebeek, however, filled the office in a satisfactory manner. At a subsequent meeting M. Ador (Switzerland) was elected Honorary President.

6. On the 6th September six Grand Committees were constituted to deal respectively with matters relating to: (1) constitutional and legal questions; (2) international technical organisations (transit, health and economic and financial); (3) armaments and blockade; (4) League finance and secretariat organization; (5) humanitarian questions (opium, typhus, traffic in women and children, etc.); and (6) political questions, such as the admission of new States to the League. Each State represented at the Assembly had one representative on each Committee, and the distribution of the work among the various Committees was as follows :—

NOT REFERRED TO ANY COMMITTEE.

General Report by the Secretary-General on the work of the Council and the Secretariat and upon the measures taken to execute the decisions of the Assembly.

Permanent Court of International Justice.

Report on the ratifications of the Protocol drawn up last year for the constitution of the Court.

Appointment of the four non-permanent Members of the Council (paragraph 164).

A resolution by Lord Robert Cecil that greater publicity should be given to the Council's proceedings. This was adopted on the 16th September (Appendix II, Resolution No. 41).

COMMITTEE No. I.

Report by the Council on the conclusions of the Committee on Amendments to the Covenant.

Report by the Council on the conclusions of the Committee appointed to examine the scope and intentions of Article 18 of the Covenant from a legal point of view.

There were subsequently referred to this Committee :—A resolution by Professor Gilbert Murray on the subject of the protection of minorities, and a proposal by Lord Robert Cecil for the simplification of voting by an amendment to the Rules of Procedure.

COMMITTEE No. II.

Report of the work of the Advisory Economic and Financial Committee.

Report of the Advisory and Technical Committee on Communications and Transit.

Draft Budget for 1922.

Audit of accounts for second fiscal period (1st July to 31st December 1920).

Auditor's Report.

COMMITTE No. V.

Report by the Council on the work of the Commission of Enquiry with regard to the Deportation of Women and Children in Turkey and adjacent countries.

Report by the Council on the International Conference on the Traffic in Women and Children.

Report by the Council on the Typhus campaign.

Report by the Council on the International Co-ordination of Intellectual Work.

There was subsequently referred to this Committee :—A resolution by Mr. Doherty (Canada) on the status of Eastern Galicia.

COMMITTEE No. VI.

Requests for admission to the League by :—

Esthonia,	Latvia,
Hungary,	Lithuania.

And as regards Albania—

(1) The decision adopted by the Council of the League of Nations on 25th June 1921, in regard to the request of Albania concerning her dispute with Greece and the Serb-Croat-Slovene State.

(2) Appeal by the Government of Albania against the occupation of certain territory by troops of the Serb-Croat-Slovene State.

There were subsequently referred to this Committee:—Dr. Nansen's resolution on the subject of Famine in Russia; Professor Gilbert Murray's resolution on the subject of a national home for Turkish Armenians; Lord Robert Cecil's resolution on Mandates.

7. Sir William Meyer represented India on Committees II and IV, Mr. Sastri on Committees I and V, and H. H. the Maharao of Kutch on Committees III and VI.

The distribution of Committee work among the delegates was affected by the fact that it had been determined that, for time-table purposes, these Committees should form two groups—those of group A, viz., Committees I to III, to meet simultaneously on the afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday (the mornings being reserved for the full Assembly), and those of group B, viz., Committees IV to VI, to meet on the afternoons of Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. But the delegates of India were, of course, in close intercommunication throughout.

8. The Committees elected the following Chairmen and Vice-Chairmen:—

Committee No. I.—Chairman, M. Scialoja (Italy); Vice-Chairman, M. Urrutia (Columbia).

Committee No. II.—Chairman, M. Jonesco (Rumania); Vice-Chairman, M. Freire d'Andrade (Portugal).

Committee No. III.—Chairman, M. Branting (Sweden); Vice-Chairman, M. de Aguero y Bethancourt (Cuba).

Committee No. IV.—Chairman, M. Edwards (Chile); Vice-Chairman, M. Herluf Zahle (Denmark).

Committee No. V.—Chairman, Mr. Doherty (Canada); Vice-Chairman, M. Tang Tsai-Fou (China).

Committee No. VI.—Chairman, M. le Comte de Gimeno (Spain); Vice-Chairman, M. Escalante (Venezuela).

There was a general feeling that members of the League Council should not preside over Committees, and no such member was elected.

9. The Assembly then proceeded to the election of six general Vice-Presidents, who, with the six Chairmen of Committees and the President, form the Bureau for the general control of the business of the Assembly. At the first ballot only five nominees had an absolute majority, and a second ballot was necessary between M. Benes (Czecho-Slovakia) and M. Torriente (Cuba), the former being elected. The final list was as follows:—

M. Bourgeois (France), M. da Cunha (Brazil), Mr. Balfour (Great Britain), Viscount Ishii (Japan), M. Hymans (Belgium), M. Benes (Czecho-Slovakia).

The British Empire Delegations would have been very glad had H. H. the Maharao of Cutch been elected one of the Vice-Presidents, but the success of his candidature was handicapped by his being new to the Assembly. In these circumstances, it is gratifying that he received several outside votes.

10. At the meeting of 7th September, the Assembly confirmed the provisional Agenda for future meetings, which had been placed before it by the Secretariat, and this gave rise to a lively debate between the representatives of Bolivia and Chile regarding a request by the Bolivian Government for the inclusion in the Agenda of the application of Article 19 of the Covenant to a treaty of peace between Bolivia and Chile signed in 1904. It was eventually decided, after the question had been submitted to a special Committee of Jurists, that the Bolivian request was out of order, because the Assembly could only invite the Members of the League to reconsider treaties in certain conditions set forth in Article 19, and would, in the present instance, have to consider as a preliminary whether these conditions did in point of fact exist; and Bolivia then withdrew the proposal, but with a reservation as to bringing it up on a future occasion. It may be noted here that Poland withdrew her request for the inclusion in the Agenda of a proposed amendment to Article 6, paragraph 3 of the Covenant, dealing with national representation on the Secretariat.

11. At the meeting of the 8th September the Assembly began a general discussion, which lasted until the 17th September, on a bulky report on the work of the Council and the measures taken to execute the decisions of last year's Assembly. In the course of the debate Mr. Sastri made a speech which was most warmly applauded, and the full text of which will be found in Appendix IV (Annex 1).

ELECTION OF THE JUDGES OF THE PERMANENT COURT OF INTERNATIONAL JUSTICE.

12. On 14th September the Assembly met both morning and afternoon, and nearly the whole of these two sittings was taken up by action in respect of election of Judges for the Permanent Court of International Justice, a matter which gave rise to a great deal of lobbying.

It should be noted that under the constitution of the Court the Council of the League and the Assembly have equal powers in regard to the selection of Judges, so that an agreement between the two is requisite.

13. Each body had thus to select 11 Judges, and at the first Assembly ballot an absolute majority of votes, which was requisite, was obtained by—

M. Altamira (Spain).
M. Alvarez (Chile).
M. Anzilotti (Italy).
M. Barboza (Brazil).
M. de Bustamante (Cuba).
Viscount Finlay (Great Britain).
M. Loder (Netherlands).
M. Oda (Japan).
M. Weiss (France).

Most of these persons had been voted for by the Indian Delegation after consultation with the other Empire Delegations, and we also voted for Mr. Amir Ali, whom our sister delegations likewise supported, and for Sir Robert Borden, but Mr. Amir Ali only got seven votes and Sir Robert Borden 12.

14. It was then necessary to vote again for two other Judges, and the original intention had been that the procedure should be that laid down in the Assembly's Rules of Business in respect of election to plural appointments, such as Vice-President, viz., that the second ballot should be confined to those persons, not exceeding double the number of places still to be filled, who had obtained the largest number of votes on the first ballot.

It was contended, however, by M. Fernandes (Brazil) that this domestic procedure of the Assembly was not applicable to the method of election for the Judges, which ought to be carried out, under the terms of the Statute of the International Court, in the same manner throughout. After some discussion this proposal carried the day, and it was resolved that at every ballot delegates should be entitled to vote for anyone they pleased: This method, of course, lengthened the proceedings by the scattering of votes.

On the second ballot Mr. Moore (United States) got an absolute majority, but it was not until the fifth that such a majority was obtained by M. Huber (Switzerland).

15. Nine of the 11 candidates thus selected by the Assembly also found favour with the Council, but in regard to two selections there was difference, the Council having voted for M. Nyholm (Denmark) and M. Descamps (Belgium), while the Assembly had preferred M. Alvarez (Chile) and M. Huber (Switzerland). A further vote was, therefore, necessary, and this resulted in the Assembly adopting M. Nyholm (Denmark), but standing out for M. Huber (Switzerland) as against M. Descamps (Belgium). The Council accepted this solution, so that the 11 Judges were finally constituted thus :—

M. Altamira (Spain), M. Anzilotti (Italy), M. Barboza (Brazil), M. de Bustamanto (Cuba), Viscount Finlay (Great Britain), M. Huber (Switzerland), M. Loder (Netherlands), Mr. Moore (United States), M. Nyholm (Denmark), M. Oda (Japan), M. Weiss (France).

16. The Assembly then went on to the election of four substitute Judges to take the place of regular Judges who might be incapacitated, and the Indian Delegation (and the British Empire Delegations generally) made great efforts to obtain the selection of Mr. Amir Ali.

On the first ballot M. Alvarez (Chile) and M. Negulesco (Rumania) obtained an absolute majority, while Mr. Amir Ali secured 13 votes, increased to 14 on the second ballot, which latter gave no conclusive result. On the third ballot Mr. Amir Ali's votes dropped to nine, and an absolute majority was obtained by Mr. Wang Chung-Hui (China) and Mr. Yovanovitch (Serb-Croat-Slovene State).

The Assembly's list was thus constituted as follows :—M. Alvarez, M. Negulesco, Mr. Wang Chung-Hui, M. Yovanovitch.

17. The Council's list contained the last three names, but instead of M. Alvarez had M. Descamps (Belgium). Another ballot was, therefore, necessary, and the Assembly sustained the nomination of M. Alvarez, while the Council held to M. Descamps. A third contest between the Assembly and the Council led to exactly the same result. It was, therefore, decided, under the provisions of the Statute of the Court, to appoint a mixed Committee of Selection, which would consist of three members of the Assembly and an equal number of the Council. This Joint Committee proposed to withdraw both M. Descamps and M. Alvarez, and to substitute M. Beichmann (Norway), and the Assembly and the Council agreed to ratify that proposal.

18. The non-election of Mr. Amir Ali, in spite of our efforts, was very disappointing as he would have been an admirable representative not merely of India but of Muhammadan jurisprudence.

Work of Committee No. I.—Constitutional and Legal Questions.

19. Committee No. I held its first meeting on the 7th September, when it appointed six sub-Committees to deal with the matters before it.

It also selected three members—M. Noblemaire (France), Mr. Bruce (Australia), and M. Osusky (Czecho-Slovakia)—to meet a similar number of members of Committee IV, and discuss in common the amendments to the Covenant which might be necessitated by new arrangements in regard to the Budget and the allocation of expenses of the League. (For the report of this Committee see paragraph 101.)

Amendments to the Covenant.

*Article 1 (Membership of the League).

20. The Committee rejected the amendment to Article 1 of the Covenant proposed by Argentina last year (vide paragraph 14 of the Indian Delegation's Report on the work of the first Assembly), which aimed at the automatic admission to the League of all States willing to join it. The report to the Assembly on this subject was drawn up by M. Scialoja (Italy), who indicated that the actual wording of the amendment was defective, as the Argentine Government had itself admitted; and that as regards the substance, although the principle involved was excellent, the Committee did not think that the moment for applying it had yet come. The delegates of Uruguay, Colombia, Chile, and Spain concurred in this view, and some of them expressed the hope that Argentina would soon resume her place in the Assembly.

* The Articles are referred to in the order in which the Committee reported on them.

Action by the Assembly.

The Committee's proposal that the Assembly should adjourn the discussion of the proposal was unanimously adopted by the Assembly on the 4th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 25).

21. The Committee adopted the conclusions of one of its Sub-Committees regarding the position of minute States, such as Lichtenstein and Monaco—which desired to join the League, but could not well be admitted owing to their small size—that it would be difficult to lay down any general rule for partial association of such States with the League, but that as each particular case arose examination might be made of the best practical action to effect this.

Action by the Assembly.

On the 4th October the Assembly approved the Committee's proposals (Appendix II, Resolution No. 26).

Articles 3, 12, 13 and 15 (Meetings of the Assembly and disputes between Members).

22. Certain amendments proposed by the Scandinavian and other Governments in respect of Articles 3, 12, 13 and 15 were considered unnecessary by the Sub-Committee entrusted to deal with them. Those relating to Article 3 had for their object to make an annual session of the Assembly obligatory, and to have supplementary sessions whenever an adequate number of constituent States desired it, but this proposal was withdrawn. The withdrawal was duly noted by the Assembly on the 6th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 34).

Action by the Assembly.

23. The Scandinavian Governments had suggested amendments of Articles 12 and 15 to make provision for a system of commissions of arbitration and conciliation to deal with disputes which come before the League. Committee I considered this was premature, and that the procedure desired should be subject to further investigation by a special Committee, so that the matter might be further dealt with next year. This recommendation was approved by the Assembly on the 5th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 27).

Action by the Assembly.

24. The Scandinavian Government had desired to leave out the word "generally" in the clause "among those which are generally suitable for submission to arbitration," in the second paragraph of Article 13 of the Covenant. This would emphasise the obligation of Member States to have recourse to arbitration for the settlement of disputes under this Article. Committee I asked the Assembly to reject this amendment, which was, moreover, not now insisted on by the Governments which had fathered it, on the ground that, in connection with the Permanent Court of International Justice, certain States had already accepted the principle of obligatory arbitration, and that this principle should be left to develop gradually. The Committee's view was confirmed by the Assembly on the 6th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 35).

Action by the Assembly.

25. On the other hand, the Committee pointed out that Articles 12, 13 and 15 required some verbal amendments making reference to judicial settlement or judicial decision, and in particular they desired that a definite reference to the Permanent Court of International Justice should be included in Article 13. These amendments were fully approved by the Assembly on the 8th October. The text of the three Articles as amended will be found in Appendix II (Resolutions 38, 39 and 40), the new matter being printed in italics.

Action by the Assembly.

Article 21 (International Engagements).

26. The Committee discussed at some length a proposal to amend Article 21 so as to make it read as follows, the second clause being new:—

"Nothing in this Covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements, such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine, for securing the maintenance of peace.

"Agreements between Members of the League tending to define or complete the engagements contained in the Covenant for the maintenance of peace or the promotion of international co-operation may not only be approved by the League, but also promoted and negotiated under its auspices, provided these agreements are not inconsistent with the terms of the Covenant. Special conference of the Members of the League concerned may be summoned for this purpose by the Council or by the Assembly."

This was with the object of emphasising the legitimacy of regional understandings generally and of agreements between certain Members of the League for the maintenance of peace or the promotion of co-operation. China had, however, been restive about regional agreements for obvious reasons, which similarly led Czecho-Slovakia emphatically to approve them. Committee I came to the conclusion that the time had not yet arrived for such revision of the Article, especially as the present text did not exclude the application of the ideas that the proposed amendment involved. The Committee, therefore, proposed that, while Artile 21 should be retained as it is, the Assembly's attention should be drawn to the fact that "agreements between Members of the League tending to define or complete the engagements contained in the Covenant for the maintenance of peace or the promotion of international co-operation, may be regarded as of a nature likely to contribute to the progress of the League in the path of practical realisations.

"Such agreements may also be negotiated under the auspices of the League of Nations, for example, in special conferences, with its assistance."

The Committee's view was endorsed by the Assembly on the 6th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 28). Action by the Assembly.

Article 10 (Guarantee against External Aggression).

27. An amendment to the Covenant, proposing to eliminate Article 10, had been put forward by the Canadian Delegation. The Committee considered that, as this amendment had given rise to widely different opinions with reference to the legal bearings of Article 10 and its relationship to other Articles of the Covenant (e.g., Articles 12 and 17), it would be desirable that the matter should be held over until next session. On the 6th October this was agreed to by the Assembly, Mr. Doherty (Canada) pointing out that the reason his delegation had raised the question was that they thought that Article 10 contained a dangerous principle, viz., that possession or the status quo should prevail over the needs of justice (Appendix II, Resolution No. 29). Action by the Assembly.

Article 18 (Registration of Treaties).

28. Committee I proposed that Article 18 should be expanded as shown below :—

"(1) Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any Member of the League shall be forthwith registered with the Secretariat, and shall as soon as possible be published by it.

"(2) No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered. Nevertheless, if treaties or international engagements are registered within three months of the time when they were definitely concluded, the effect of the registration will date back to that time.

"(3) It shall not be obligatory to submit for registration instruments of a purely technical or administrative nature which have no bearing on political international relations, nor instruments which consist merely of technical regulations defining without in any way modifying an instrument already registered, or which are only designed to enable such an instrument to be carried into effect.

"(4) Regulations adopted unanimously by the Assembly shall lay down the way in which these articles shall be applied."

The draft regulations contemplated in the last clause had reference to procedure and the view taken by the Committee was as follows :—

(i) Under Article 18 all treaties which create international legal obligations must, without exception or reservation, be submitted for registration, provided that one of the contracting parties is a Member of the League of Nations.

(ii) The registration of an instrument imposes no obligation on the League of Nations but that of providing for its publication.

(iii) Registration does not take the place of ratification. It is simply a condition upon the fulfilment of which the binding force of a treaty or international engagement is dependent. Once the treaty or agreement has been concluded, neither of the contracting parties can escape unilaterally from its obligations; but until registration has taken place, the treaty or agreement will lack positive binding force, both between the contracting parties and in regard to third parties.

(iv) As regards treaties and agreements which require registration, any contracting party, whether a member of the League of Nations or not, may demand such registration.

(v) With regard to treaties between States which are not Members of the League of Nations, there is no obligation to effect registration, but there is nothing to prevent the Secretary-General from acceding to requests for registration addressed to him by such States.

Action by the Assembly.

29. In the Assembly, on the 5th October, Mr. Balfour said that it was obvious that the matter was difficult and complex, and that a rigid and unqualified interpretation of Article 18 as it stands was impossible, e.g., there were financial agreements which could not be registered and made public, as well as agreements in regard to executive details bearing on the application of treaties. He accordingly moved the following resolution, which it was agreed should be taken in two parts and separately voted on:—

"The Assembly, taking note of the proposal for the amendment of Article 18 contained in the report of Committee I, decides to adjourn the further consideration of this amendment until the third Assembly, it being understood that in the meantime Members of the League are at liberty to interpret their obligations under Article 18 in conformity with the proposed amendments."

The first part of this resolution, as regards the postponement of amendment of Article 18 to the next Assembly, was carried unanimously, while the second portion, concerning the liberty of Members of the League to interpret their obligations in conformity with the proposed amendments pending the adoption of the latter, was carried by 22 votes to 5. Subsequently, however, the point was raised that as unanimity was required the resolution was lost, and the President ruled accordingly. (Appendix II, Resolution 24.)

Articles 5 and 26 (Method of effecting Amendments).

30. The Committee discussed the correct procedure in regard to amendments to the Covenant, having regard to the terms of its Articles 5 and 26. The former Article lays down that, except where otherwsie expressly provided, resolutions at any meeting of the Assembly must be unanimous, and for this reason, in various cases last year, there was substituted for a formal resolution, in respect of which unanimity could not be obtained, a mere recommendation by a majority.

Article 26 of the Covenant lays down that "amendments to the Covenant will take effect when ratified by the Members of the League whose representatives compose the Council, and by a majority of the Members of the League whose representatives compose the Assembly." No such amendment shall bind any Member of the League which signifies its dissent therefrom, but in that case it shall cease to be a Member of the League.

31. There were, as a result, two schools of thought. One maintained that if an ordinary resolution required unanimity, this should a fortiori be necessary in regard to the far more important matter of amendment of the terms of the Covenant, and that Article 26 merely indicates what was to take place when, on unanimous resolutions of the Assembly and the Council, such amendments were passed on for formal ratification by the Governments of the League States.

The other school maintained that Article 26 must be taken as self-contained, and that unanimity was not necessary quâ resolutions for amending the Covenant, in view of the subsequent ratification procedure laid down, whereas in the case of ordinary resolutions, as the ratification safeguard did not exist, unanimity was requisite.

Among the supporters of the former view were the Netherlands and French Delegates. Among those who took the view that amendments to the Covenant could be dealt with entirely with reference to Article 26 were Mr. Balfour and M. Motta (Switzerland). Mr. Sastri held that, as the Covenant stood, Article 26 could not be dissociated from Article 5, and that the proper course would be to get a unanimous decision that Article 26 should cover all questions relating to Covenant amendments. Future procedure could then be by a majority.

32. In their final report, discussing the question whether Article 26 must be read as linked with Article 5, so that a preliminary resolution by the Assembly for amendments must be unanimous, the Committee said that this is not necessary, i.e., that amendments can be dealt with entirely under Article 26, and they cited in support of this a speech made by President Wilson at the Peace Conference on the 28th April 1919, and, among other documents, a commentary on the Covenant submitted to Parliament by the British Government.

The prerogatives of sovereign States were, they considered, guarded by the ratification procedure required by Article 26.

They proposed, however, as an additional safeguard, that Article 26 should be amended so as to require a preliminary vote in the Assembly to be carried by a three-fourths majority, and that this majority must further include the votes of the representatives of all the Council States (permanent and temporary) represented at the meeting. Some other amendments they suggested will be followed from the text of their recasting of Article 26 which is given below, fresh matter as compared with the existing Article being in italics :—

" Amendments to the present Covenant, the text of which shall have been voted by the Assemby on a three-fourths majority, in which there will be included the votes of all the members of the Council represented at the meeting, will take effect when ratified by the Members of the League whose representatives composed the Council when the vote was taken, and by the majority of those whose representatives formed the Assembly.

" If the required number of ratifications shall not have been obtained within 18 months after the vote of the Assembly, the proposed amendment shall remain without effect.*

" The Secretary-General shall inform the Members of the putting into force of an amendment.

" Any Member of the League which has not at the time ratified the amendment is free to notify the Secretary-General within a year of its refusal to accept it, but in that case it shall cease to be a Member of the League."

33. After some discussion this resolution was approved by the Assembly on the 4th October (Appendix II, Resolution 23) by 37 votes, with none against (there were 14 abstainers or absentees), subject to an accepted amendment by M. Urrutia (Columbia) that the period of 18 months in respect of ratification should be extended to 22 months. M. Urrutia had likewise suggested that the period of one year referred to in the last clause of the resolution should be extended to two years, but this he subsequently withdrew. Action by Assembly

34. The Indian Delegation voted for this amendment of the Covenant, as the proposal seemed to be an eminently reasonable one. It obviates the necessity of an unanimous assent of the Assembly to proposed amendments, which would, on occasion, be fatal to real progress, while the procedure now proposed gives adequate safeguard against action by narrow and possibly not very responsible majorities.

35. In the course of the discussion in the Assembly Sir James Allen (New Zealand) stated that, in order to avoid the possibilty of "snatch votes" he would ask his Government to get placed on the agenda of the next Assembly the question of fixing a quorum for validity of decisions of the Assembly and of Committees (there is no such quorum rule at present), and of some amendment to Article 19 (5) of the Rules of Procedure, which lays down that in matters of voting abstaining representatives are put on the same footing as absentees.

36. Approval was also given by the Assembly to a recommendation put forward by Committee I, that during the present session the principle now proposed to be embodied in Article 26 in respect of the voting of resolutions be applied, i.e., the Assembly was recommended not to pass any resolution for amendment to the Covenant unless it obtained a three-fourths majority and embodied the votes of the delegates representing Members of the Council. The Assembly further approved the proposal of the Committee that when amendments to Articles of the Covenant had been voted by the Assembly it was desirable, in order to expedite the process of ratification by the consituent States, that a protocol in regular form should be appended for signature by delegates who deemed themselves competent to give such signature on behalf of their Governments; this, of course, without prejudice to the necessity for subsequent ratification of such Governments (Appendix II, Resolution No. 23).

Article 4 (Non-permanent Members of the Council).

37. With reference to Article 4 of the Covenant, dealing with the composition of the Council of the League, the Belgian Delegate suggested that the number of non-permanent Members of the Council should be raised from four to six, his obvious desire being to make it more probable that Belgium would be re-elected by the Assembly at this session. It was decided that the question of augmentation of the number of Members of the Council should first be dealt with by the Council itself, and M. Noblemaire (France) considered that it would not be opportune to take any such decision at present while there were still great States who were not Members of the League. Finally, it was decided to inform the Council unofficially of the discussion.

Action by the Assembly.

38. The Committee's report to the Assembly recommended that the non-permanent Members of the Council should, in future, be elected according to a system of rotation for a fixed period, and that the Assembly should this year renew for the year 1922 the appointment of the present members. In the absence of any decision with regard to the future number of non-permanent Members of the Council, the Committee considered it inexpedient to lay down precise rulings; it suggested, however, an amendment to Article 4, which was adopted, with the object of enabling the Assembly to fix rules for the election, terms of office and conditions of re-eligibility of the non-permanent Members. The resolution as finally passed by the Assembly will be found in Appendix II. (Resolution 32.)

Article 5 (The Principle of Unanimity).

39. On the 6th October the Assembly adopted without discussion the conclusion of Committee I as regards the first paragraph of Article 5 of the Covenant, to the effect that the question of derogations from the principle of unanimity was a matter not yet ripe for consideration (Appendix II, Resolution No. 36). But, as indicated above (paragraph 32), it has heen decided that Article 5 does not cover resolutions having in view the amendment of the Covenant.

PROTECTION OF MINORITIES.

40. Professor Gilbert Murray had brought forward the following motion in the Assembly:—"That, in order effectively to carry out the duties of the League in guaranteeing the protection of minorities, the Council be invited to form a Permanent Commission to consider and report upon complaints addressed to the League on this matter, and, where necessary, to make enquiries on the spot." This was referred to Committee I. Having considered the Report of a Sub-Committee the Committee took note that a resolution adopted by the Council on 25th October 1920 met the desire expressed in Professor Gilbert Murray's motion. Professor Murray, therefore, withdrew his proposal.

AMENDMENT OF THE RULES OF PROCEDURE.

Article 20.

41. Lord Robert Cecil (South Africa) proposed in the Assemby an amendment of Article 20 regarding the taking of the "Appel Nominal." This was referred to Committee I, which recommended the adoption of the proposal, with slight modifications. On the 23rd September the Assembly accepted the recommendation, which leads to more expeditious voting. Rule 20 as amended will be found in Appendix II. (Resolution 7.)

Article 14.

42. Committee I was asked by Committee IV to give an opinion on the advisability of an addition to the second paragraph of Article 14 of the Rules of Procedure, providing that resolutions involving expenditure should not be voted by the Assembly before the Financial Committee had given its opinion on the advisability of the proposed expenditure from a ways and means point of view. Committee I, after examination by a Sub-Committee, recommended an addition to the second paragraph of Article 14 in this sense. The proposal was unanimously adopted by the Assembly on the 6th October (Appendix II, Resolution No. 31). Action of the Assembly.

Work of Committee No. II. (Technical Organisations: Transit, Health, Economic and Financial: Statistics.)

THE ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL COMMITTEE.

43. This subject was introduced by interesting expositions from Sir Henry Strakosch and M. Avenol in respect of the work of the Financial Section of the Temporary Economic and Financial Committee.

44. Sir Henry Strakosch admitted that the world situation at present precluded any material alleviating action in regard to such matters as exchange and international credits. The much vaunted Ter Meulen scheme had, he was obliged to admit, hitherto proved a dead letter, no advantage having been taken of it. His explanation was that when the resolution was drawn up, the countries of the world were eager for goods, but had no ready money to pay for them; whereas now, owing to fall in prices, there was a glut. This latter proposition can, probably, only be accepted as partially applicable, and Sir Henry did not mention a very real factor, as against the adoption of the Ter Meulen scheme, that the States whose nationals were to obtain credits thereunder were unwilling to set aside State assets for the redemption of these credits, as the scheme contemplated. Sir Henry Strakosch indicated also that world conditions could not be materially improved till certain nations stopped their present free use of the printing press in supplying themselves with currency, and that it was as yet quite premature to consider a further international valuation of currencies in gold.

45. M. Avenol stated that he and his colleagues, after personal investigation in Vienna, had found that, if Austria received reasonable help, she would be able to help herself towards the recovery of her financial position. He said that the Austrian Parliament, with the full support of all parties, had made large additions to taxation to cover the gap between receipts and expenditure in their budgets, but that their action had been rendered inadequate by delay on the part of the States, who were to forego their liens on Austria, agreeing to suspend these, while the United States, whose assent was necessary, had not yet taken such action. Consequently, there had been a very large further fall in the exchange, which reopened the gap between receipts and expenditure.

46. The Committee then took into consideration the reports of the Economic Section of the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee set up by the Council.

47. M. Ador (Switzerland), acting as rapporteur and also as President of the Joint Economic and Financial Committee, proposed to submit to the Assembly the following draft resolution:—

(1) The Assembly is of opinion that the constitution of a definitive Economic and Financial Advisory Committee, as contemplated by the Resolution of the 9th December 1920 on Technical Organisations, is not imperative during the forthcoming year; but considers that the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee should continue its work until the next Assembly in accordance with the Resolution of the Council of the 19th September 1921.

(2) The Assembly considers it to be of the greatest importance that the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee should carry out the programme of work indicated in the reports mentioned above, including the study of the following questions:—Double taxations, the monetary situation, unfair competition, monopolies, unification of legislation relating to bills of exchange, commercial methods designed to obviate the risks arising from fluctuations of the exchanges. The Assembly also invites the Committee to make a general study of the provision of the Convenant relating to the equitable treatment of commerce.

(3) The Assembly agrees that it is not necessary to convoke at an early date a general Conference for the study of the principal financial and economic questions; and approves the proposal whereby the Council, if it considers it desirable so to do, may, with the advice of the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee, convoke consultative conferences of restricted scope for the examination of special problems.

(4) The Assembly regrets that the work of the reconstruction of the finances of Austria, in which the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee have been called upon to co-operate, should have been delayed by obstacles lying outside the control, not merely of the Committee, but of the League of Nations itself. The Assembly hopes that these obstacles will shortly be removed.

(5) The Assembly agrees to the proposal that the work of organising the International Credit Scheme should be pursued in the manner set out in the report submitted by the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee to the Council.

(6) The Assembly commends to the serious consideration of the Members of the League the general conclusions of the Report on Certain Aspects of the Raw Materials Problem, especially those calling attention to the effects that may be produced by artificial restrictions and duties on the export of essential raw meterials on the economic life of other countries.

(7) The Assembly, recognising the intimate connection between the restoration of transport facilities and the supply and distribution of raw materials, expresses the earnest hope that every effort will be made to expedite the work of the various Commissions charged with such matters as reallocation and interchange of rolling stock in certain parts of Europe.

(8) The Assembly invites the Advisory and Technical Committee on Communications and Transit to consider the desirability of action being taken, under the provision which empowers the Council to call partial or regional Conferences to consider special matters, with a view to promoting the improvement of facilities for inter-communication and transport between those States whose transport systems have specially suffered from disorganisation.

48. It will be seen that the raw materials question was mainly dealt with in clause 6 of the draft resolution, which refers to a report on the raw materials problems printed in Appendix III (Annex 1). This report will repay perusal, and special attention is invited to the fact that the Economic Section fully endorse the view which Sir William Meyer expressed last year on behalf of India as to the incontestable right of States to dispose freely of their internal resources and, in exceptional circumstances, to reserve these to themselves; also to impose export duties, where this was deemed necessary, as a means of raising revenue. They likewise condemned any scheme of international rationing. Consequently, clause 6 of the resolution was of no danger to India, and indeed strengthens her position. The passage at the end of the clause as to artifical restrictions and export duties does not apply to India's policy, but to one deliberately intended as a means of economic warfare and to special differentiation against particular nations.

The word "especially" which introduced this passage was, however, on an amendment by Sir George Perley (Canada) altered to "including" which is an improvement.

49. There was a long discussion on the various clauses, and it will suffice to note that (a) the representatives of Serbia, Italy, France and Brazil were emphatic about the necessity of remedying the disorganisation of the world's credit and exchanges, but made no practical suggestions as to how this excellent object was to be attained ; (b) the Japanese delegate (M. Adatci) pressed for an addition, with reference to the last sentence of clause 2, which invites the Economic and Financial Committee to make a special study of the provisions of the Covenant (Article 23 (e)) relating to "the equitable treatment of commerce." M. Adatci wished to hasten things, and proposed that the Committee should proceed to this at once, and formally draft a convention which might be approved by the next Assembly.

Sir H. Llewellyn Smith and M. Ador deprecated undue haste in regard to this delicate matter, and pointed out that the actual meaning of the term "equitable treatment for the commerce of all Members of the League" in Article 23 (e) of the Covenant was open to various interpretations. Did it, for instance, on the principle of ejusdem generis, refer primarily to freedom of communications and transit, or did it go further? M. Adatci accepted a proposal by Sir H. Llewellyn Smith that there should be no mention of a convention, but that the Provisional Economic and Financial Committee should be asked to report as soon as possible.

It may be mentioned in this connection that the words "unfair competition" used in clause 2 of the resolution refer, as will be seen from the Raw Materials Report, to false trade marks, actions of private traders, such as giving incorrect descriptions of goods, etc, and that the word "monopolies" apparently refers to the operations of commercial trusts and does not apply to Government monopolies such as salt, tobacco, or, in India, opium production.

50. After a lengthy discussion on various suggestions, which were more of wording than of substance, it was finally decided to refer these suggestions to the consideration of a Sub-Committee consisting of M. Ador (Switzerland), Sir H. Llewellyn Smith (Great Britain), M. Ferraris (Italy), M. Hanotaux (France), and M. Adatci (Japan). If they were agreed in regard to amendments (of form, not of substance) to the resolution, they might be treated as plenipotentiaries of the Committee, and the resolution, as amended by them, could be submitted to the Assembly without a further full meeting. If, however, there were divergences of opinion, Committee II would meet again. It was understood that any member of the full Committee dissatisfied with conclusions which the drafting Committee had arrived at, would be at liberty to ventilate the question in the Assembly.

Action by the Assembly.

51. At the meeting of the Assembly on the 28th September, M. Ador (Switzerland) brought forward the resolutions as finally drafted, and they were passed unanimously. These will be found in their final form in Appendix II, Resolution No. 13. There were some alterations in wording as compared with the original draft, which are indicated in italics.

COMMUNICATIONS AND TRANSIT.

52. After an opening speech by M. Hanotaux (France) dealing generally with the proper functions of the technical organisations of the League, M. Adatci (Japan) made an expose of the report of the Advisory and Technical Committee on Transport with reference to the decisions come to at the Barcelona

Conference, and a resolution for submission to the Assembly was carried to the following effect:—

"Without prejudice to the terms of paragraph 4 of section I, of a Resolution of 9th December 1920, relating to the Organisation for Communications and Transit, the general conferences on communication and transit shall meet, as of right, at the seat of the League, on the request of one-third of the Members of the League. Such request shall be addressed to the Secretary-General of the League, and the Agenda of the Conference should be attached to the request. It shall be the duty of the Secretary-General to convene the Conference."

The effect of this was that, whereas under the arrangements come to last year, a new general conference on communications and transit could only be called by an unanimous decision of the Council, there would now be an alternative method of having it summoned at the request of not less than one-third of the total number of constituent States of the League.

It may be noted that, as regards the additional protocol to the Waterways Convention drawn up at Barcelona last spring, which it had been decided that Sir William Meyer might sign on behalf of India, it was not possible for him to do so, as the necessary full powers had not arrived at the time the Assembly broke up.

53. Two other resolutions, put forward by M. Adatci, were also carried. The first of these expressed satisfaction at the fact that a number of States had already carried out the recommendations of the Conference held in Paris in October 1920 as regards simplification of formalities connected with the obtaining of passports and visas, the reduction of passport prices, and the unification of passport regulations. The resolution went on to draw the attention of all States which had not yet progressed in this direction to take similar measures.

The second asked that all possible facilities should be given to the members of the various committees of the League in the matter of passports, particularly as regards visas and the period of their validity.

54. M. Avramovitch (Serb-Croat-Slovene State) drew attention to the fact that the Technical Committee appointed by the Conference at Barcelona, which consisted, besides the four representatives of States permanently belonging to the Council of the League, of 12 other members elected by the Conference, did not include any representative of the Danubian States, although these were most materially interested in questions of international transit, etc. He took note of the remarks of M. van Eysinga (Netherlands), who is President of this Technical Committee, that they were endeavouring to remedy this to some extent by calling in, as technical assessor, a Serb representative. M. Avramovitch was, however, not satisfied with this. He wanted actual representation on the Committee, and put forward a resolution that the Assembly should take steps to add to the Committee one representative at least of the Danubian States. This proposal was criticised by Sir William Meyer and other delegates, e.g., M. Hanotaux (France), M. Adatci (Japan) and M. van Eysinga (Netherlands), on the ground that while they felt full sympathy with the position of the Danubian States, and regretted that the Barcelona Conference did not give them representation on the Technical Advisory Committee, they could not agree to go outside the constitution of that Committee as laid down by the Assembly last year, one of the Assembly's objects having been to keep down the numbers.

Sir W. Meyer pointed out, too, that Article 293 of the Treaty of Trianon provided for a Special Commission on the Danube waterways, and that the Council had taken steps to call it into existence.

M. Avramovitch's resolution was rejected in favour of one proposed by M. Hanotaux (France) to the following effect:—

"The Assembly takes note of the designation by the Advisory Committee for Communications and Transit of a railway expert national of a riparian State of the Danube, and invites the Committee to proceed also, in its next session, to the designation of one or more than one other experts, specially qualified in the different matters dealt with by this Committee and nationals of other riparain States of the Danube."

55. The resolutions were brought up by M. Adatci at the Assembly on the 22nd September. The first, referred to in paragraph 52 above, which provided for a conference to meet at any time at the request of not less than one-third of the constituent States of the League, was amended at the suggestion of Sir George Perley (Canada) so as to make the requisite number one-half. The other resolutions referred to in paragraph 53 above were passed as they stood, and are printed in Appendix II, Resolution No. 6. Action by the Assembly.

THE HEALTH ORGANISATION.

56. This subject was dealt with by the Assembly last year, when it was proposed to bring the Office International d'Hygiene Publique, in Paris under the control of the League.
